E. H. GARY RAPS BIBLE CRITICS

Religion is Plain Business Sense, Steel Magnate Declares

PAYS TO BE CHRISTIAN

Addresses Institute on Return from Holy Land

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Fresh from a Mediterranean cruise, which took him, among other places to the shrines of the Holy Land, Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, pleaded for a greater turning toward the Christian religion as a cure for the world's ills, in his address today opening the annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Disclaiming any intention to "preach a sermon" Gary declared religion was "simple plain business sense."

"Gentlemen," he said, "it is in accordance with our instincts and judgment, as frequently proclaimed, to say that it pays a nation or any individual to follow a Christian course."

Gary reserved his customary analysis of conditions in the steel industry for the end of his address when he asserted optimistically that "there is nothing in sight to indicate that there will be a substantial diminution of the demand for finished steel in this country during the next six months, to say the least."

He warned steel manufacturers, however, not to permit the prices to go above a level which is "fair and reasonable."

RUHR SITUATION

Touching on the Ruhr situation, which he declared was "unsettling all Europe," he suggested that Secretary of State Hughes be named as an impartial arbitrator to settle the international differences between France and Belgium and Germany.

Gary had scarcely started with a description of his foreign tour when, mentioning the Holy Land, he launched into a vigorous defense of the Bible against its modernist attackers and urged a broader application of Christian principles.

"The moral and religious principles of the Bible, both the Old and New Testaments," he said, "have never been and can never be successfully repudiated. Since the preservation of history commenced there has never been anything approaching the Holy Bible as a literary production, or a code for proper and desirable human conduct or as a foundation for future hopes."

PROOF FOUND

"If any here should believe this is an exaggeration which is not probable, read again this book and you will be surprised. Visit Palestine in the light of and under the inspiration of the Bible. The landmarks of Palestine are as described in the Bible. The more we read and study, the more we must be convinced of the absolute reliability of the Book of Books."

"One who reads of, or personally witnesses evidence of the rise and fall of great nations and communities and cities is led to believe that an overruling God determines their destinies. Corinth, for a long time a dominating city, known as the luxurious and wicked city, today has only a small community with a few remaining magnificent ruins, partly uncovered, and similar cases are numerous. Such nations as the United States, even, or Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, China, Germany, Austria, Russia will do well to constantly bear in mind the history of the past and the possibilities of the future. Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."

"We should, if possible, avoid all national controversies, international, national, state, municipal, public, private, political, sectarian, economic or otherwise. They are numerous at present; indeed they seem to be fashionable. Where, or in whom is the blame? He that is without sin, let him first cast a stone. Let us diligently search our hearts."

Touching on his visit to the ruins of Athens, he said:

"Why did an all-mighty Providence permit such awful destruction and decadence? Read history and ascertain: read Paul's Epistles. Perhaps you will also discover some reasons why the Roman empire fell; why Babylon fell; why Jerusalem was many times destroyed; why many great cities and nations fell from power and prosperity; but more particularly why other great nations may hereafter perish."

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Of conditions in the United States, Mr. Gary said the present business outlook is good.

"All this is said in the face of burdens of taxation, unnecessary and unreasonable political and social agitations precipitated by those who have nothing financial at stake, the unfortunate troubles pending in foreign countries and the bugbear of politics," he added.

"There has of late apparently been a deliberate and persistent attempt to create an impression that there will be in the near future a substantial recession in business activity," he asserted.

"Business men generally understand this. The propaganda is inspired by a few shortsighted persons who do not seem to understand that if they could succeed in wrecking the business of the United States, they would ruin their own country."

CONFERENCE IN SESSION

National Progressive Bloc Opens Chicago Meeting

CHICAGO — (United Press) — American railroads are prepared to demand a valuation increase that would add $1,500,000,000 annually to the cost of living, leaders in Senator Robert M. LaFollette's national "progressive bloc" conference for lower valuation, declared today.

Arrival of LaFollette, Mayor John F. Hyland, New York, and others whose names have been linked with a proposed insurgent political movement, was a signal for reports that "medicine will be mixed for a two day session," which began today for a coalition between LaFollette and William Randolph Hearst followers and some labor leaders for a third party in 1934.

Several members of congress, governors, labor and public interest organizations heads are among the delegates. Some of the congressional "conservative progressives," however, failed to arrive after being announced as delegates.

KEYNOTE SOUNDED

Donald R. Richberg, legal adviser to the conference, today sounded the "keynote" of the sessions in Chicago city hall council chambers with assertions that on the basis of the interstate commerce commission's policy of fixing valuation, on reproduction costs, the railroads will demand a $10,000,000,000 increase over the so-called "1914 valuation" of $18,900,000,000.

"This" would add $559,000,000 yearly to the national freight and passenger rates which would be tripled when passed on to the American people in the form of increased cost of commodities," he said.

Richberg accused the interstate commerce commission of failing to obey the valuation act, which provides that the commission shall determine the investment of the railroads and the reproduction costs and then set a reasonable valuation on the basis of which the 5-1-2 percent guaranteed return shall be determined.

"In arriving at the 1914 valuation, which is tentative, the commission took the reproduction costs at that time," Richberg declared.

15 ARE EXECUTED

Russian Noblemen Charged With Revolutionary Plot

MOSCOW — (Associated Press) — Fifteen persons all of them princes, generals or noblemen have been executed as a result of the discovery of an active counter revolutionary plot in the Soviet republic of Georgia, says a dispatch from Tiflis to the Pravda today.

The names of those executed are not given but it is said all were active participants in the movement.

The counter revolutionary activities in Georgia are alleged to have been begun early in 1932 with a combination of five non-Bolshevik parties, the plans including a general uprising for last September.

The conspirators are asserted to have been in communication with M. Gordani, former Georgian premier, M. Tsereteli, a Keresnky cabinet member, and other anti-Bolsheviks abroad, who promised money and arms.

MRS. STILLMAN IS UNDER GUARD

Protection Against Fred Beauvais Necessary, She Declares

ANNOYED BY INDIAN GUIDE

Wife of Banker Has Pity for Mrs. Leeds

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Mrs. Anna Urquhart Stillman hopes that Mrs. Florence Leeds will win in her controversy with James A. Stillman for support of the son born to Stillman and Mrs. Leeds, says a dispatch to the New York Times from Grand Anse, Quebec, today. For Mrs. Leeds, the dispatch adds, Mrs. Stillman "has nothing more than pity."

Mrs. Stillman added a sensational angle to the case by charging that Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide named correspondent by Stillman and charged with the paternity of Guy Stillman, has been annoying her. Her attorney has warned Beauvais to desist, she declared, and added that Fowler McCormick, son of Harold McCormick of Chicago, a friend of the family, is remaining at the lodge with her and her children as a protector.

ANOTHER BLAMED

Mrs. Stillman said she knew that Mrs. Leeds was not the cause of her rupture with her husband and other suits which grew out of it, but that another woman was responsible. She said Mrs. Leeds had been replaced in Stillman's attentions by a New York society woman whom she has heard he may marry if he is divorced.

About a month ago, Mrs. Stillman explained, she was informed that Stillman had broken with Mrs. Leeds and that the latter was contemplating a suit against the banker.

Mrs. Stillman appeared far from her usual health. Ten two years during her court battle, she postponed an operation to conserve her energy, but three weeks ago it was performed, she said, and she has not fully recovered.

URGES FIGHT

"I really did not make a direct offer to Mrs. Leeds to adopt Jay (Mrs. Leeds' son)," she said, "but would be glad to make such an offer any day. He is my son's half brother and if Mr. Stillman does not accept any responsibility for him we do. If Jay Leeds' father isn't a gentleman, my sons are gentlemen."

Mrs. Stillman said that if Mrs. Leeds "had any sense at all she would fight like a tiger." "I hope that above all else," she added, "she will not sit still. I hope that she will not let things slide by, hoping that somehow in some way she and the boy, especially the boy, will be taken care of. That doesn't gain anything with people like Stillman."

Lima Kennel Of 'Yellow Dogs' To Be Instituted

The "Yellow Dog" has arrived in Lima.

Four local men were initiated into the Order of "Yellow Dogs" by the degree team from a Columbus Kennel, at Columbus Thursday evening.

A local kennel will be established in Lima in the near future and the high sign of the Yellow Dog will be in evidence upon the streets. The new organization is of a social and fraternal character.

Columbus and the east are full of Kennels and Yellow Dogs and construction of a Kennel in Lima marks western progress of the organization. Governor Donahoe is a member of a Columbus kennel and at the Courthouse Kennel, Columbus, 5000 Yellow Dogs hold forth.

Local men who made the trip overland Thursday evening were T. Reid Alexander, Frank Freeman, Andy Andrews and Richard A. Thornburgh.

ATTORNEY JAILED

Fails to Answer Question in House of David Probe

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. — (United Press) — Walter M. Nelson, Detroit attorney, was sentenced to 30 days in jail today by Judge Harry J. Dingeman, conducting a grand jury investigation into the House of David colony here.

Nelson was counsel for the Bamford Sisters in their suit against the House of David for $200,000 damages for alleged mistreatment at the hands of "King" Benjamin Purnell, leader of the colony.

Nelson failed to tell Judge Dingeman where the Bamford sisters were when requested to do so.

"I have told all I know," Nelson said, as he was taken to jail.

ASK BOOTLEGGERS TO SURRENDER STILL—AND SIX DO IT

Jail Terms and Tears Prevented by Happy Solution of Liquor Trouble

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS, Minn. — (Special) — Judge H. Z. Mendow and Chief of Police A. C. Elsenpeter must be the combined reincarnation of old King Solomon.

Otherwise how could they have teased five honest-to-goodness bootleggers into giving up their stills? Well, here's the story from the very beginning:

Columbia Heights is just outside of Minneapolis, and in time may be a suburb of that thriving city. Judge Mendow dispenses justice to those Chief Elsenpeter thinks need it. Together they sort of regulate the morals of the village.

"Now, chief," said Mendow one day, "there's getting to be too much of this here bootlegging business around here."

The chief squinted, so witnesses say, and said that well, maybe—

"Let's clean 'em out," the judge suggested.

"Now, judge, come back the chief, 'there's a lot of these fellows who might be working in a legitimate trade too. Take So-and-So and What's-His-Name. I suspect them of totin' liquor on the side, but if we pinch 'em, what'll the kids and the wives do?"

But the judge didn't waver.

"Why," exclaimed the chief, as a happy thought struck him, "couldn't we ask 'em to bring in their outfits and allow 'em to go scot free if they did, but if they didn't, soak 'em good and hard? Get me?"

The day after the proclamation, or rather ultimatum went up, two moonshiners called the chief to come to their places and tote away their beverage-producing outfits.

With the campaign five days under way, six stills have gone into the limbo of history.

HOMES FLOODED

Heavy Damage Results from Cloudburst in Missouri

CARTHAGE, Missouri, — (United Press) — Flood waters, resulting from a cloudburst caused heavy damage today to homes and crops in this section.

Scores of persons were rescued when their homes here were flooded and a number of business houses suffered from the high waters.

The city was without lights.

The main line of the Missouri Pacific for more than a mile, near here, was washed out by the high waters. Spring River running thru here was still rising today and had overflowed its banks, inundating the Frisco station and flooding cellars.

Interurban service was halted by washouts and the town was isolated with the exception of one highway leading south out of the city.

FORD OUTBIDS WALL STREET ON BIG LOAN

DETROIT — Henry Ford, automobile king and richest individual in the world, today became a competitor of Wall Street in the game of finance.

He made a personal loan of $2,000,000 to the city of Detroit.

Wall Street financiers had bid for the loan at 4 1-2 per cent interest.

Ford's bid was 4 per cent. The money will be handled thru the Bank of Detroit, it was announced.

Ford's money will be used partly to meet city payrolls until the city's taxes begin coming in July 15. Controller William J. Nagel, who negotiated the loan said, "The rest of it will be used to make extensions and improvements in the city's street railway system," he said.

BERLIN IS ALARMED AS ARMED COMMUNISTS MARCH ON ESSEN

Asks Permission to Send Forces to Check Uprising

STRIKE SPREAD THREATENS

Reds Are Reported as Slipping Thru French Lines

LONDON — (Associated Press) — The German government is alarmed at reports that armed Communist bands are marching on Essen, says a Central News dispatch from Berlin this afternoon. It has asked permission of the French authorities to send forces of German police from the unoccupied districts to Essen and Gelsenkirchen.

BERLIN — (Associated Press) — Despatches from the Ruhr this morning gave rise for a time to the belief that work had ceased in all the Ruhr mines; the correspondents reporting a general walkout with the assumption that a strike throughout the Ruhr had been declared in sympathy with the Dortmund strikers. Later advices however showed that the movement was confined to the Gelsenkirchen district.

SLIP THRU LINES

BERLIN — (United Press) — Hordes of communists from the interior of Germany are slipping thru the French lines and entering Gelsenkirchen in large numbers, according to dispatches from that city today.

The communists still control parts of the town. They held the police station, partly burned and their armed guards are to be seen in other strategic points, ready and eager for more fighting. The municipal authorities, latest advices said, are engaged in a parley with the "reds" to determine whether a joint police force, representing all factions, may be formed.

German and Russian communists are reported to have met at Buchum in the Ruhr valley several days ago, and to have planned the uprising at a conference with Karl Radek, Bolshevik organizer. The trouble started when strikers began entering food stores and announcing that supplies were confiscated for the hungry. There was some resistance which led to fighting, and in a short time the town was the scene of a battle.

The communists sent organized squads thru the streets, conducting their offensive in a systematic manner. There was no organized resistance at first, as the "safety police" had all been deported by the French army of occupation. French troops watched the rioting without attempting to interfere. Later citizens organized and fought back. Today the opposition armed groups were watching each other, ready to resume hostilities at a moment's notice.

FIVE WORKMEN INJURED WHEN WALL COLLAPSES

CLEVELAND — Five men were injured in a hall of bricks this morning at the plant of the Cleveland Builders' Supply and Brick Company, when the wall of a brick kiln, in which they were working, collapsed. The men were inside the kiln when a truck backed into it, crashing into a so-called "green wall" composed of loose bricks, causing the topmost bricks to fall on the heads of the workmen. The injured men were rushed to a hospital, all severely cut and bruised about their heads and shoulders.

MAKE HUBBY BEG, GIRLS ADVISED

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Girls should not marry until able to support their husbands, United States Senator Ferris of Michigan advised the girls in the graduation class of the Parkard College Commercial School at Commencement exercises last night.

"You have all," he said, "seen your mothers beg for money from your fathers to buy anything they want from a safety pin to a gown. If you have first learned to support yourself and your husband, you will never need to beg. You can just remind your husband that you can at any time go out and earn your own living and he will get down on his knees to urge you to remain in the home."

CHARGES OF DEAD WIFE FACED

Dying Statement Used Against Indiana Man on Trial

VALPARAISO, Ind. — (Associated Press) — The dying statement of Mrs. Nettie Diamond, accused her husband, Harry Diamond, with fatally shooting her, will be presented as evidence by the state to top off its case against Diamond who is on trial here charged with the slaying. Prosecutor W. J. McAleer announced.

In the statement Mrs. Diamond said she and Diamond left their home in Gary, Ind., on February 14, in their automobile which was driven by William Armstrong, negro chauffeur. She had in her possession a check for $17,000 which she intended to deposit in a bank in East Chicago. Between Gary and East Chicago, she declared in the statement, Diamond ordered the chauffeur to get out of the car to see if the chains had come off the rear wheel. When the chauffeur alighted Diamond opened fire on her, the statement said.

"How many shots he fired into me, I don't remember. He then stepped out of the car and shot some more and I heard Armstrong say 'I want to live. What are you committing murder for?' Harry then got back into the car and beat me over the head with a gun."

Continuing the statement she says Diamond drove her and the wounded negro to a drug store in East Chicago, the while entreating her to blame the negro with the shooting. The statement concludes:

"What became of the $17,000 check I don't know. I make this statement knowing I am going to die."

Several witnesses were placed on the stand yesterday by the state, including William Armstrong, the negro chauffeur. Armstrong in his testimony declared he had been tricked by Diamond into writing a note, found by authorities which defense attorneys maintain implicates him in the slaying.

LIQUOR CASE DISMISSED

CINCINNATI — H. G. Averdick, Covington, Ky., sleeping car conductor arrested on charge of transporting liquor in sleeping car dismissed in Milford liquor court without trial.

HIGH OFFICIALS OF OHIO ARE HIT

Thousands in Property Missing, Investigator Bliss Declares

ROAD DEPARTMENT INVOLVED

Result of Probe in Handling of Surplus War Material

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Speculations probably totaling thousands of dollars are alleged to have been involved in the disposition of nearly $6,000,000 worth of surplus war material given the state and controlled by the state highway department in a report filed today with the state bureau of accounting by John A. Bliss as chief of the bureau. Bliss recently appointed by Governor Donahoe as a special investigator of the executive department.

Investigation of the handling of this surplus war material was brought about by the fire at the state fair grounds last summer when several exhibit buildings were destroyed and thousands of dollars worth of the surplus war material destroyed. Rumors at the time were to the effect that the fire might have been of incendiary origin to cover up thefts and irregularities in the disposition of the property which was stored there.

PARTIAL CONCLUSIONS

The Bliss report several months in making the investigation, he reports that he was able to reach only partial conclusions and account for only partial amounts of the material because of incomplete records and the fact that much property had disappeared of which he could find no trace.

The report involves laxity on the part of the highway department both under the present and preceding administrations and testimony taken by Bliss brings in the names of several important officials, past and present of the highway department. It reveals what is termed a conspiracy between certain employees of the highway department and a Columbus junk dealer to defraud the state.

FINDINGS FOR RECOVERY

Included in the findings for recovery are the following:

(1) Due to the state from Harry and Max Silberstein, Columbus junk dealers, for material obtained from the fair grounds and not paid for, interest and deferred payments—$9,984.67.

Illegal payments and fees paid to R. H. Shaffer and Company, Columbus, $1,121.42.

State Highway Director L. C. Herrick, interest on funds withheld from state treasury beyond statutory time—$12.23.

Topper and Reenthal, Columbus, interest on deferred payments, $148.12.

The examiner's conclusions as set forth in the report are as follows:

(1) That the state was at fault for not providing a suitable building for property care for the millions of dollars worth of excess war material shipped to the state highway department by the federal government.

(2) That officers and employees of the state highway department who were charged with the care of this property were grossly negligent if not criminal in the care and disposition of said property.

(3) That much of the property which was serviceable was sold contrary to regulations of the federal government and state law.

(4) That much of this property has disappeared thru theft, gift or sale for which no accounting has been made to the state.

(5) That many of the employees of the state highways garage benefited by receiving state property thru gift or otherwise.

(6) That some of the employees of the state highway garage benefited by receiving property and money from Silberstein Brothers, junk dealers.

(7) That Silberstein Brothers sold much more property, which they received from the state highway garage, than they have accounted for to the state and that the excess was concealed at various places until disposed of.

(8) That Silberstein Brothers were permitted to remove property from the state highway garage on Sunday and other times without surety as to what they took. On two occasions, the report says, they were compelled to unload material which they were attempting to take away and which later disappeared.

(9) Use of state trucks for private purposes, particularly to convey property to Silberstein Brothers.

(10) Repair of private automobiles.

NEW WORLDS ARE PUT ON MAP

Great Work of Scientists at Washington Shown

MORE STARS ARE REVEALED

Boundaries of the Universe Are Being Pushed Back

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—The restless mind of mankind is steadily probing the uttermost depths of space, pushing back the boundaries of the universe, triumphing over immeasurable distances to bring to a teeming world news of other stars than ours.

Daily, at the Mt. Wilson, Cal., observatory, according to reports reaching the Carnegie Institution of Washington, scientists dive headlong into a mystic sea of mathematics, ethereal radiations, light waves, and spectroscopes and emerge again with amazing revelations of worlds beyond the world that fall from their lips like the pronouncements of destiny.

The newest wrinkle for probing the boundless depths of space invented by the scientists of Mt. Wilson is a machine for measuring the diameters of stars without the use of a telescope.

A complicated device of mirrors, steel beams, and railroad tracks, the implement is so large and so delicate that instead of being housed, it is fixed to the earth, and a house on wheels moves back and forth over it to shelter it when not in use.

The device is an enormous amplification of the instrument by which Professor A. A. Michelson measured the diameter of Betelgeuse, until recently the largest star measured, and by which Dr. G. Francis Pease obtained the measurements of Antares, which dethroned Betelgeuse, and Aldebaran, which fell slightly short of Betelgeuse's colossal girth.

HAS FOUR MIRRORS
The device consists of four mirrors set along a steel beam 75 feet long, two of them fixed, the other two movable with the aid of screws of an indestructible frame of adjustment enabling the mirrors to be set within a thousandth of an inch of a desired position.

Beneath the beam are lenses which rather than reflecting beams of starlight and shunt them into the delicate mechanisms of the interferometer which reveal to observing scientists the contortions of the light rays that give them the clues to the measurements of the stars.

The new implement was constructed to enable more refined measurements than Michelson's 20-foot-beam interferometer, attached to the 100-foot telescope at Mt. Wilson permitted.

As is usually the case in all new inventions, their crudity prevents accuracy in dealing with small objects. Michelson's famed interferometer was no exception. He could measure a star 300,000,000 miles in diameter, but not luminaries. The advantage of the new instrument lies in its power to measure our relatively near star neighbors, that is to say, anywhere around 9 light years, or about 5 1/2 trillion miles away.

The first subject to be attempted with the new device is Sirius, dog star, in the constellation of Canis Major, about 5,225,300,000 miles away. Though the brightest star in the heavens it is known to be much smaller than any of the giants so far measured, its brilliancy being due to its relative closeness to the earth. It is only 1-25 the distance of Betelgeuse.

THE WOMBAT

This is one of the two Australian wombats which have just arrived at the London Zoo. They are relatively the fattest of animals. Like that other Australian, the kangaroo, the wombat carries its young in a pouch.

"I did it just for fun." This explanation might be appropriate coming from a small boy apprehended in a peccadillo, but is disconcerting coming from Professor A. A. Michelson, noted savant and measurer of the giant star Betelgeuse.

Yet Michelson admits that when he started out to put a ruler on the sums of space he did it just for fun without any real hope that he would succeed.

From his earliest student days in Paris, where he startled his professors by declaring that he had actually added light to light and obtained darkness in accordance with a known physical principle, that later proved the foundation of his fame, Michelson pursued his hobby "just for fun."

Ask him if he is an astronomer, and he will tell you, "No." Inquire if he is a mathematical wizard and you get the same answer.

What is he? He is a physicist. His steady march to fame has been along the lines of devising methods of forcing the universe to give up its secrets but leaving their application to the technicians of the astronomical profession.

Michelson will tell you that it was not he that first chalked Betelgeuse's diameter on a yardstick. It was a brother scientist at Mount Wilson, Cal. He came to the observatory set up his instruments, explained what he was after and how to get it and went away, leaving the actual measurement to others.

The latest measurements of giant stars is being done by other men than Michelson, yet it is he who built the foundations upon which they are erecting a new scientific edifice.

FIFTY THOUSAND WOMEN
would comprise a vast army, yet that is the number who have replied to a questionnaire recently sent out by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Lynn, Mass. Ninety-eight out of every 100 letters from these women contained positive assurances that they have been benefited or restored to health by taking this old-fashioned root and herb medicine. This is most remarkable evidence of its power over the ills of women. Therefore, with 98 chances out of one hundred that Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will overcome such ailments for you, why should you continue to go through life in pain and suffering.—Adv.

SAVING ANIMALS WINS MEDAL

Result of Movement Launched by Humane Society

OFFER MADE TO ALL PERSONS

Idea Originates from Rescue of two Dogs

CHICAGO. — (Associated Press.)

A movement has been inaugurated by the American Humane Society to award medals to men, women and children who risk their lives in saving the lives of animals, according to an announcement by the Illinois

Humane Society, a member of the national society.

The idea originated following the receipt of information of two rescues from death of dogs. One told of two men who rowed a boat thru a field of ice in the Kennebec river in Maine to reach two collie dogs who were floating down the river on a piece of ice that had been torn loose as they were sitting on it.

The other case was where two men in New Jersey rescued a dog that had been sucked down by quicksands until only its head was showing. Its pitiful cries had aroused the men during the night, and the darkness combined with a fog, made the rescue work extremely dangerous, but the men found the dog after much tedious hunting, and worked two hours before they got the animal out. Each man sunk to the waist in quicksands.

The National Humane Society, according to the announcement, will attempt to have a "national bronze service medal" made available for award to those who perform similar feats.

30-YEAR OLD MAN PHILANTHROPIST

But He's Misanthrope at Same
Time, Reports

GIVES LAND, AUTO AWAY

Donates Chandelier to Church,
Then Tears it Down

MCKINNEY, Texas—(Special)—Gus Wilson, an 80-year-old bachelor who lives near here, has a peculiar theory of life. Call it religion or creed if you will.

He would give the world the impression he is an unbeliever; that he is uncharitable. But all the while his deeds speak the contrary.

He'd deny heatedly that he gives most generously. But the fact is that in money and property he has given outright one million dollars! He would slam the door in your face one minute and the next hand you a check for $15,000—if you really needed it.

The secrecy which A. M. Wilson—those are his initials, but everyone calls him Gus—throws about his gifts makes it difficult to obtain a complete list. These, however, are known:

Twelve big houses, 20 autos, one bungalow, many canceled promissory notes, two school houses, many acres of land, and thousands of dollars in cash.

GIVES LAND AWAY

Once a thousand acres of rich land adjoining the crude little log cabin in which he lives. He has given all away except 150 acres, which he keeps for a tenant family living in the hut with him. Gus has always lived here; his father did before him.

He seldom gives when asked for aid. He loves to surprise and play Santa when least expected.

Not long ago, on his way to McKinney, he passed a farm house. The entire family—father, mother and children—were working in the field. The day was sultry. Labor must have been a hardship. Wilson held a mortgage on that farm.

He saw all at a glance. Instead of proceeding to town, Wilson impulsively turned his car and hurried back to his little cabin. There he seized the mortgage, marked it "paid" and drove back to the farm.

Not willing to make a show of his generosity, he edged his way into the farmhouse unnoticed, and placed the canceled document under a dinner plate.

DONATES AUTO

On another occasion he noticed a crippled farmer in the field. Apparently he hadn't given the unfortunate a second glance. But when he got to town he bought an auto and sent it out to the cripple with a chauffeur.

An index to his strange character was gleaned when he donated a chandelier to a church. It was one of the few times he gave directly to a house of God.

Wilson spent considerable money on the chandelier, and had it installed. Then, some time later, he dropped into the church building. There he found his gift had been unused, and was covered with dirt and cobwebs. He promptly tore it down and took it home.

Despite his appearance, Wilson is rich. He has loaned much money at interest. But his policy regarding these obligations is quaint. If a man is able to pay, Wilson takes the money. But if he isn't he will cancel the note or mortgage.

Some call this loose business methods. But all his life he has worked hard and saved and his gifts go only to those unable to make both ends meet.

Has this unusual man ever had a romance? One of his oldest friends say in Wilson's youth there was a girl. This maiden married another, and thereafter Gus dropped all matrimonial intentions. He still has his old wedding suit.

"If I had my way," Wilson is quoted as saying, "all women would be sent to Africa, and all men somewhere else. When they come together there's trouble."

THREE LEAD LIFE OF JEKYLL-HYDE

Pastor, Banker, Policeman Honest in Daylight

BUT TURN ROBBER AT NIGHT

Burglar Horrified at Thought of Embezzlement

LOS ANGELES — Does a strain of the Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde complex course through all of us? Are the majority held to the straight and narrow path merely through fear, resignation to convention, or some other intangible balancing power?

Three unusual life-stories have come to light recently on the Pacific coast. In each, the man involved followed a respected profession or business during the day. But when twilight came and lights were lit, and good people went to bed, these three, police say, would creep out and rob.

And the next morning would find them snug in their roles of a Dr. Jekyll, respected—even honest! In San Francisco, one "Kid" Wilson, was recently caught, police say, in the act of burglarizing a home. At the jail the astonishing discovery was made that "Kid" Wilson and Earl D. Wilson, efficient and trusted paying teller of the Bank of San Francisco, were one and the same.

"It was not a desire for loot that made me turn burglar," he is said to have said to police. "Adventure and excitement — those I craved after a day of dry figures and drier bookkeeping records."

GIRES IN LIFE
Girls, too, figured in this man's strange twin career. They were respectable girls, always, daughters of prominent citizens. They did not dream he was a burglar. They thought him only as a trusted bank teller.

And when someone suggested looking over his accounts at the bank, he drew back with horror: "No! Not embezzlement. Burglary, yes, but I never even thought of robbing my employers. No one can find a penny out in my banking record!"

Up in Portland, Oregon, Henry E. Travis, former policeman and member of the prohibition squad, is awaiting trial for larceny.

His story is said to be somewhat like that of the bank teller. The monotony of the daily beat deadened him. At night, police say, he broke into garages, intent upon robbing autos of everything that could be carried away.

For five years, he is said to have confessed, Travis applied the methods of law enforcement to his own ends to avoid detection. He even manufactured and sold moonshine while ferreting out violators of the liquor laws.

AVERTS SUSPICION
Once he broke into a trunk manufacturing concern, police say. He ordered an expressman to the building at a dark hour, loaded the wagon and escorted it away safely. Then he returned, broke a few windows, threw things about, and shot his pistol twice at a phantom robber. No suspicion was directed upon him for a long time.

Los Angeles is the third coast city to witness a weird Jekyll-Hyde story in the reality. By preventing to the psychology of the pulp to criminal exploits, Herbert Wilson, former pastor, has become momentarily a western desperadoes, in the eyes of police.

He has been convicted of killing a crook pal, has been indicted for huge mail thefts, and has already made a sensational jail break and been recaptured. His recent story of the Wall Street bombing attracted nationwide attention.

UNSATISFIED
Wilson employs, with singular adaptiveness, the same gifts which made him once the respected leader of fashionable flocks. But the tiresome routine of the pulpit didn't satisfy the craving for adventure in his blood.

He had been ordained to the ministry in Ontario, Canada. And he held pastorates at Brownsville, Oregon, and at San Diego, California. He was a good man, his parishioners say, and his wife still stands loyally with him in his trouble.

"The things of the spirit, of the mind, are stronger than those of the material world," he said with unctuous intonation after his recapture.

"Words, graciousness, kindness, sympathy, flattery, tact — these are master keys that unlock cell doors and shatter chains when adroitly used."

But through each of these three life-stories runs the same theme: Stevenson employed. Adventure! Those apparently are the hereditary gifts of man, say crime experts after studying the strange coast cases.

Most of us, they add, curb our craving. But some can't. And then we find the banker-burglar, pastor-desperado and policeman-robber.

PORTER OBSEQUIES
Funeral services for Charles A. Porter, Civil war veteran, who died Thursday at the Soldiers' Home in Dayton, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. C. North, of 763 S. McCall-st. Rev. Warren L. Stevens, pastor of the First Baptist church will officiate. Interment in Woodlawn cemetery.

CHORISTER 80 YEARS
BATTERSEA, Eng. — Eighty years of continuous service in church choirs ended with the recent death of Joseph Kenningham, 91. For many years he was soloist in Salisbury Cathedral. He had sung in every Handel Festival since 1862.

WAGES INCREASED BY SIX RAILWAY SYSTEMS

CHICAGO — Six railroads today notified the United States railroad labor board that they have increased pay of 27,000 maintenance of way workers from one to three cents an hour.

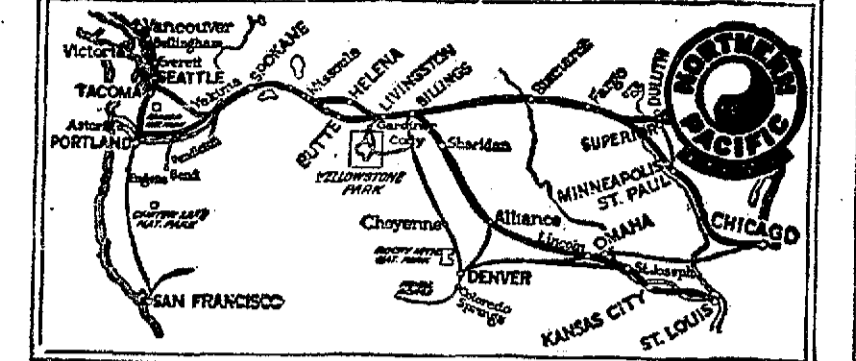

The roads are: The Burlington, Gulf Coast, Illinois Central, Maine Central, Philadelphia and Reading, and the Bangor and Aroostook.

Maintenance men of the Louisville and Arkansas road, filed application for a 11 to-15 cents an hour increase.

The board set June 11 as the date for hearing the petitions of groups of maintenance men thruout the country for wage increases.

HITS CHILD MARRIAGES
LONDON—Child marriages may be prohibited in Britain. Parliament is considering a bill by C. G. Ammon, labor member, that would forbid marriages of persons under 16. Present legal ages are 14 for males, and 12 for females.

A party of eight is just right for a western trip—large enough for a sight-seeing automobile; to get the most favorable rates at hotels; to make two tables at bridge; to bathe or fish or go horseback riding or hiking.

The Northern Pacific Ry. is the route to take.

$98.00 Lima to North Pacific Coast

On your way west—spend five glorious days in Yellowstone Park. Never will you enjoy yourself more.

BIRTH DATA NOT KEPT PROPERLY

Ohio Law Not Complied With, Dr. Sutter Says

REPORTS HERE ARE GOOD

Many Advantages Accrue from Records. He Shows

Births in the state are not being properly recorded, according to information received at the office of Dr. J. J. Sutter, county health commissioner, from Dr. John E. Moninger, director of the state board of health.

State laws provide that all the births since December 20, 1903, shall be filed in the directory of vital statistics. According to Moninger, several counties in the state are not making complete records.

Birth registration in Allen-co is almost 100 per cent complete, Dr. Sutter said. Physicians are required to report births within 10 days. If a physician is not present it becomes the duty of the mid-wife or nurse in attendance to make the report.

Indicative of the education of the community to the use of physicians are statistics showing that of the 500 babies born in the county last year, all but one case were attended by physicians. There are no mid-wives registered in the district, Dr. Sutter said.

REGISTRATION IMPORTANT
Importance of birth registration cannot be overestimated, the county papers are necessary to the child to prove his age and citizenship and to establish legal facts. Hinging upon the birth certificate is the right to go to school, to go to work, to prove right to inheritance, to marry, and to secure passports.

As the system of birth registration operates in Allen-co, upon receipt of the certificate by the county health commissioner, a duplicate certificate is sent to the mother and the original forwarded to the state department by Dr. Sutter.

Mrs. Anna Mae Fletcher, county health nurse, then visits the home and offers any assistance requested in connection with a health survey of the home. A complete survey of homes in which babies have been born is thus available to the health commissioner and assistance can be given any time.

GOSSIP PUTS TWO BEHIND BARS

Man, Wife Charged With Murder of Brother

HUSBAND'S PARENTS DEAD

Bodies to be Exhumed and Examined by Officers

NEWARK, N. J.—(Special.)—Wagging tongues and back-fence gossip have put a young man and his wife behind the bars of the county jail charged with the murder of the woman's brother.

And this whispering has led the police to open the graves of the man's parents to determine whether they, too, died of poisoning.

Back of it all is another tragedy of Main street—a Main street of this large eastern city where one rarely knows the persons living next door, and there is supposed to be no time for idle wagging.

Mrs. Mary Creighton, the 24-year-old wife, lies in the city hospital. She gave birth to her second child a few days after she was arrested.

"How can a mother that brings life into the world," she says, "think of taking life! It's too absurd for words."

Yet the tongues keep wagging. They tell about Charles Raymond Avery, 18-year-old brother of Mrs. Creighton, who died in her home on April 20.

They tell of the boy's last illness, and the rumors that flew about. And of anonymous letters which were sent to the prosecutor's office, which urged the authorities to make an investigation into the youth's death.

FIND ARSENIC

"We investigated," says John O. Bigelow, prosecutor of Essex county, "and we found the boy died, not of natural causes, but of arsenic poisoning."

Witnesses appeared before the grand jury; an indictment was quickly handed down, and Mrs. Creighton and her husband were apprehended.

Tongues kept on wagging. They recalled the death of Creighton's mother Dec. 1, 1920—of a cerebral hemorrhage according to the death report. They recalled the death of Creighton's father in September, 1921, of heart trouble.

There rumors led the prosecutor to obtain a court order to exhumed the bodies.

"In neither case was there evidence of any organic trouble," says Dr. George L. Warren, county physician. "In the stomach of Mrs. Creighton was found a white powdery substance."

This prompted the authorities to continue their investigations. While his wife is in the hospital, nursing her baby, John Creighton paces his cell, worried more by the thought of his wife's condition and the care of his other 3-year-old child than by the charge against him.

"It will all come out right," he says. "But it's an awful strain being charged with such a crime when we know we are innocent."

STUDENTS MAKE JUNK INTO PLANE

Buy Parts at Government Sale at Air Station

DECATUR, Ga.—(Special.)—Out of a pile of junk they bought at auction for $35, four high school boys here have built an airplane that is taking them on almost daily flights to nearby cities.

Recently they flew to Chattanooga, Tennessee, making the round trip of 280 miles in 4 hours and 20 minutes.

They have made successful trips to Augusta, Birmingham, Athens, Columbus, Macon and Savannah.

A trip to the west coast during their summer vacation now is being planned.

The boys and their home-made air flier are the sensation of Decatur, and huge crowds assemble daily to watch them take off.

The government in January conducted a public sale of old airplane parts at the Americus, Georgia, air station.

Eugene Brown, R. J. Freeman and George and Donald Perrine, all 17, obtained leave of absence from high school and attended the sale.

Atlanta aviators advised the boys and then they got busy. In two months their plane was ready for a test, and army aviators tried it out and pronounced it "O. K."

"We worked every afternoon and every night for 60 days," says Eugene Brown, the official pilot, "and we did all the work by ourselves."

Van Burgin, ex-army flyer and president of the Atlanta Air board, taught the boys how to fly the machine, and now they are just as much at ease in the air as at the ball park.

As far as is known here, the four are the world's youngest aviators.

Plans for Memorial Day Exercises Completed

TABLETS TO BE UNVEILED

Lincoln's Address Will be Read in European Cemeteries

PARIS. — (Associated Press.)—Memorial day this year, according to plans now being developed by the Overseas Memorial Day Association and the American Legion, will be the occasion for the final consecration of the graves of the 30,587 American soldiers whose bodies will rest forever in foreign soil. To carry out this idea arrangements have been made to have Lincoln's Gettysburg address read at the ceremonies at all the eight military cemeteries abroad. This announcement is made by Colonel Francis E. Drake, president of the Memorial Day Association. The chief service of the day will be a solemn memorial ceremony in Paris on the morning of May 30 when the memorial tablets in the cloister of the American Pro-Cathedral of the Holy Trinity to the memory of the American Divisions; the American Ambulance Service, and the Lafayette Flying Corps, together with the statue of Columbus, are to be unveiled.

CHIEFS TO ATTEND

This ceremony will be under the presidency of Myron T. Herrick, the American Ambassador, and it is expected that the great allied war chiefs will attend. Invitations have been sent to Marshal Foch, representing France; Field Marshal Haig and Earl Beatty, representing the army and navy of Great Britain; General Baron Jacques, Commander-in-Chief of the Belgian army; General Diaz, Italian Minister of War; General John J. Pershing and Alvin W. Owsley, National Commander of the American Legion.

As in previous years, the French government will cooperate in all the ceremonies with official representatives and troops at those burying places where it is possible to have them.

In the afternoon of May 30 impressive services will be held at the Suresnes Military cemetery, just outside of Paris. It is hoped that the allied commanders will attend these services as well as those at the Pro-Cathedral. Similar services will take place at all the other cemeteries, and these will be in charge of delegations from the Memorial Day Association and the American Legion.

The plans provide, as in the past, for the placing of flowers on every soldier's grave in France, Belgium and Great Britain. The Legion Post of the American Legion has assumed the responsibility for decorating all the graves at the Brookwood cemetery the only place in England where American soldiers are buried. Similar plans have been made to decorate the graves of American soldiers at Waereghem, Belgium.

KEINATH CHARGES TO BE AIRED

Fight on Putnam-co Rural School Head is Continued

HEARING SET FOR JUNE 5

Lima and Ottawa Attorneys Clash at Board Meeting

"Gentlemen, I am willing to meet you at Philadelphia. There are no skeletons in my closet."

Thus George J. Keinath, superintendent of Putnam-co schools, Friday defied a group of taxpayers to produce evidence in substantiation of charges contained in petitions which ask that he be ousted. Sixty gathered at the regular meeting of the county board of education, which was to act on the matter of renewing Keinath's contract, which expires in July.

The school superintendent, against which certain forces in the county have been marshaled for some time, spoke at length on the situation. Attorney Ira Longworth, Lima, secured by the petitioners to represent them, stated the charges and asked that the board set a date on which they can be aired.

Longworth, who declared he was brought into the case only a short time ago, pleaded for time in which to arrange his evidence for orderly presentation before the school men.

Discussion waxed warm and a personal clash between Longworth and Attorney H. P. Eastman, of Ottawa, was narrowly averted. The latter, declared the proceedings brought by the petitioners are "rotten" and referred to them as "rotten" and "dirty."

Shaking his finger under Eastman's nose, Longworth declared it was the first time in the history of his experience he had been charged with being identified with something "rotten" and "dirty." Eastman's main contention was that the board is not required to grant the petitioners a public hearing, but can dispose of the matter at a regular meeting. Longworth contended that it is just to set a specific time.

Keinath suggested the appointment of a committee of school men to investigate the charges. A hearing will be held June 5. It is announced.

Speaking in his own behalf, Keinath dwelt on the charge brought against him of gross neglect of duty. He said:

"I am willing to have my moral and educational qualifications passed upon and the question decided as to whether I should be re-elected or not. I have nothing to fear."

Continuing, he said, "Those behind this movement have instituted these proceedings because I have refused to prostitute the public school system of Putnam-co to their political desires. If you can find one member of the school system whom I have asked to vote for anyone, I would like to see him produced."

The original petition was filed a year ago, carrying over 800 names. A second was filed at the meeting in April, with 500 names.

CONTINENTAL OFFICIALS GET LIGHT PLANT OFFER

The Fairbanks-Morse Co. has made Continental council a proposition to supply the city with a power plant, which would eventually become the property of the town. There is much objection to the present light rate of 15 cents, officials state. The matter was up before the public utilities commission last year.

That body decided in favor of the light company and the ten-cent city rate ordinance was declared void. Nothing definite has been done on the proposition since that time.

POINCARÉ TO DEMAND VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

PARIS—Premier Poincaré has decided to demand that the senate and house give him a vote of confidence on his policy toward communists, following refusal of the senate to sit as a high court for trial of communists at his request.

After one of the most exciting nights in French political history, Poincaré summoned his cabinet to discuss the situation this morning. For several hours last night France was virtually without a government. When the senate rejected his request that it try Deputy Marcel Cachin and other communists accused of treason, Poincaré and his ministers tendered their resignations to President Millerand.

The president—interrupted while entertaining guests at dinner—announced a long argument with the premier, as a result of which the resignations were withdrawn.

SHOES STOLEN AT GILBOA FOUND ON SLAIN BANDIT

Bert Smith, bandit found slain in an auto on Madison-av, Toledo, did not die with his boots on. He "passed out" wearing a pair of oxfords belonging to the Frantz Bros. general store, Gilboa, officials declare.

This has been determined by proprietors of the store who have just returned from Toledo to identify some of the merchandise stolen from the store April 20. Price tags found on the soles in Smith's possession bear the name of Frantz Bros.

It is believed all or at least part of the $700 loot will be recovered. A chance display of Smith's personal effects to the Gilboa men led to the discovery that the dead bandit wore their shoes at the time of his mysterious death.

MURDER MYSTERY MAY BE SOLVED

Body of John Prowant, of Dupont, Found in River

WAS SLAIN 20 YEARS AGO

Letter from Woman in Michigan Affords Clue

A murder mystery, which more than 20 years threw Putnam-co into a furor of excitement, may be cleared up. A letter from a woman in Kalamazoo, Mich., may be the means of bringing the murderer to justice, authorities at Dupont believe.

Dr. W. R. Stadler Dupont, received a letter Thursday from a woman named Mrs. F. Miner, inquiring whether John Prowant was killed there.

The letter tells that a man who worked in the same factory with her father in Kalamazoo was discharged and blamed the trouble on her father. He talked considerably, Mrs. Miner said, and under the influence of liquor made a threat that her father would "go like Prowant."

The man in question, Mrs. Miner told in her letter without mentioning his name, formerly resided in Continental and was somewhat of a notorious character.

How he can be reached and how much he knows about Prowant's mysterious murder are questions that Dupont authorities will strive to solve. Further communication with the Kalamazoo woman will be taken up. Local officials may seek an interview with her in Michigan, or she may be asked to come to Putnam-co.

Twenty years ago John Prowant, 21, disappeared from his home near Dupont. A few days later his body was found floating in the Auglaize river, anchored to heavy stones and secured by wires. Children attending a picnic discovered the body.

Interest was at fever heat for several months. County officials, aided by detectives, made every effort to solve the mystery. The matter was finally dropped and nothing more developed until the letter was received by Dr. Stadler.

Those interested in the apprehension of the murderer have secured the services of a detective, according to information reaching the sheriff's office. Prosecutor J. S. Ogan has been asked to rule on the question of whether a $500 reward offered for the apprehension of the murderer shortly after the crime is still effective.

WIFE IN ROLE OF DETECTIVE

Trails Husband in Lima. Asks Divorce in Putnam-co

Sluething on the trail of her alleged erring husband provided Mrs. June Herr, Ottawa, with the nucleus of evidence for a divorce suit filed Thursday afternoon in Putnam-co common pleas court against Fred W. Herr, Toledo, vice-president of the Copperstone Products company.

She had him arrested, she declared after finding him registered at a hotel in Lima with a woman she says is Mrs. Pearl Shoringhouse, of Toledo. The latter is named as correspondent in the suit.

Previously they had been registered at another hotel as Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Herr, Toledo, according to an allegation in the petition.

After she had detected his handwriting on the register at the hotel, Mrs. Herr declared, she caused their arrest. They were released on bond furnished by Herr which was afterward forfeited.

Mrs. Herr also charges the defendant with extreme cruelty, in that he falsely accused her for three years and called her vile names, she says. They were married in 1915 at Coldwater, Michigan.

Herr is well able to pay her reasonable alimony, Mrs. Herr says. She recites that he owns $10,000 in various stocks and securities. He has $5,000 worth of stock in the Copperstone Products company, she adds.

Mrs. Herr prays for restoration of her former name, Jana Foote, and seeks alimony. A hearing will be held May 31 on her application for alimony, pending suit.

OREGON STUDENT IS VERSATILE

Champion Pole-Vaulter is Also Preacher, Father

HONOR MAN AT UNIVERSITY

Pastor Two Years at Cottage Grove Church

EGGERS, Ore. — Minister and scholar, athlete, athlete, and husband, Albert R. Spearow, honor student at the University of Oregon, pastor of a Presbyterian church, and champion pole vaulter.

Only recently, in a dual meet between the Oregon A. C. and University of Oregon, this young man of the cloth broke the Pacific Coast conference pole vault record, and took second place in the broad jump and other events.

The Rev. Spearow is a yellow-haired, serious-faced young man. He is a little over 26 years of age. In his student capacity, he is a junior majoring in education. And in all studies he has taken high honors.

In the pulpit, Spearow has buried himself deep in the hearts of the congregation of the Presbyterian church at Cottage Grove, Oregon. There he has preached for the past two years—since he was 24.

And finally, as an athlete, he ranks pre-eminent. He always wins the pole-vault event. And he shows well too in the broad and high jump.

The young minister-athlete was to have represented the Mulnoman Amateur Athletic club at the last Olympic games. But the arrival of his little daughter, Dorothy, prevented.

BREAKS RECORD

At home, he read how Fess broke the world's pole vault record by clearing the bar at 13 feet 5 inches.

With the joy of a young father singing in his heart, he went into the back yard, and with but a few acquaintances present, vaulted 13 feet 6 inches—officially breaking the world's record.

Spearow doesn't wear ministerial robes in the pulpit. "I want to identify myself with my congregation," he says, "and not set myself apart from them. Difference in garb is one of the best means of separating a pastor from his people. With them he should have the closest of contact."

The athlete-minister, too, has his own theories of life.

For instance, he believes blue-laws are detrimental.

"They suppress," they do not solve," he says.

His wife is keenly interested in his work and play. She, too, is an honor student at the University of Oregon, and also is making in education. Both have interests in fraternities.

And to top it all, Spearow has been awarded the Koyle cup, given to the "best all-around man in the junior class"—which includes both studies and athletics.

CARBOLIC ACID DUMPED IN CITY'S WATER SUPPLY

COLUMBUS — Director of Health J. E. Monger and engineers from his office will go to Cleveland next Monday to confer with health officials and manufacturers of that city relative to alleged contamination of the Cleveland water supply. A bill that would have eliminated the dumping of phenols (carbolic acid) into the Cuyahoga river by manufacturing plants failed in the last legislature.

Dr. Monger said today that from 17 to 20 tons of carbolic acid are dumped daily into the Cuyahoga river which finally reaches the lake and the city's water supply. He contends that the direct effect of the carbolic acid in the water is to irritate the mucous membranes of the alimentary canal while probably a more disastrous effect is to keep people from drinking as much water as they should because of the bad taste and odor caused by the combination of the carbolic acid with the chlorine used to purify the water. He also said that the bad taste and odor of the water was likely to cause citizens to seek other water from wells which may not be pure.

FRISCO BANK WINS UNIQUE PLACE

Tops all Other U. S. Institutions in Number of Depositors

PASSES THE $400,000 MARK

Remarkable Growth is Reported
by B. C. Forbes

(BY B. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK. — (Special.)—You would never guess which of all the banking institutions in America has the largest number of depositors. This bank is not located in New York or Chicago or Philadelphia or St. Louis or Detroit. The institution enjoying this unique distinction is the Bank of Italy, with headquarters in San Francisco. It has more than 400,000 individual depositors, equal to one for every second family in the state.

It was recorded in this column last week that the outstanding feature of the compilation I had made showing which were the 25 largest American banking institutions in 1914 and which were largest in 1923, was the appearance of a new name in this year's list as a number 14 from the top. This phenomenal achievement prompted me to delve into how it had been done. The answer might be summed up thus:

A. P. Giannini.
The life story of this "native son" of California of Italian descent, is distinctly out of the ordinary. When a school lad in short trousers he gave promise of becoming a human dynamo by getting up at daybreak every morning and working for hours before school time. When only a mere youth he won his way to a partnership in a successful firm and at thirty-one quit with enough money to retire.

But a life of ease did not appeal to him. He re-entered the business arena, was shortly made director of a bank, couldn't persuade the board to wake up and so decided to start a bank of his own. He did. That was in 1904. Today only thirteen banks or trust companies in America have more deposits than the bank Giannini then established, the Bank of Italy.

He had clear cut ideas of how a bank should be run, in the interests of its community, its clients and its stockholders rather than as an instrument for enabling two or three insiders to roll up a large fortune.

PRISONERS MEMBERS OF GOVERNOR'S FAMILY, IN PLAN FOR REGENERATION

By MAURICE HENLE
COLUMBUS. — (Special.)—Gov. A. Victor Donahey of Ohio had been talking earnestly for a half hour, telling the remarkable story of Jim, Bill and Ed.
Finally he leaned heavily on his desk, involuntarily extending an arm, and in a voice that trembled slightly with emotion, said:

"And let me tell you, that I would rather trust those three boys, and I do, than many men who come to me in this office, seeking this or that, speaking honeyed words, free men, who sit in that very chair in which you are seated."
The remarkable story of the redemption by the governor of Jim, Bill and Ed, who tried to pass a worthless check! Jim and Bill who killed —

All thru the uphill struggle in life of the present governor of Ohio there took form a deep-rooted conviction that many men who "slipped" were not hopelessly lost to society, that perhaps in some way or other there was a chance for them.

He vowed that should the time come when he would be in a position to do his share to bring about the realization of his dream, that time would not find him shirking.

Also, he had become so familiar with the value of branch banking as practiced in Europe, that he dreamed of accomplishing something worth while along that line for California.

Today the Bank of Italy has six active branches.
It made a larger gain in deposits during a recent half-yearly period than any other bank in the United States.

It now has $220,000,000 deposits and total resources well in excess of $250,000,000.
It is the largest bank in America west of Chicago.

Its stockholders number 16,000.
Giannini also heads the $10,000,000 Banc-Italy Corporation in New York, the Commercial Trust Co., New York, the East River National Bank, New York, and the Bank of America and Italy located in Italy, with banks in such cities as Rome, Palermo, Naples, Genoa, Milan, etc.

Mr. Giannini recently returned from a year's activities in Europe, principally in Italy, organizing banks there, and his son, Mario Giannini, is at present supervising developments there, while his brother, Dr. A. G. Giannini, directs

Soon after he was inaugurated, Donahey slipped down to the Ohio penitentiary.
"I want three servants for the executive mansion," he told the warden. "Let me see some prisoners who have good records."
Donahey — the governor — talked long and confidentially to Jim and Bill and Ed — the convicts — (those names will do as well as any). He knew he had found the three men to show the world the truth of his theories. He placed in them his complete trust — a man's greatest gift — and brought them away from the gray walls, to live again with free men, as free men.

"Those three would die for me," said Donahey. "I call them my boys. Technically they still are serving terms, Jim and Bill for life, Ed for a number of years. But I intend that some day they will be pardoned. And when they go again into society, they will be different men."

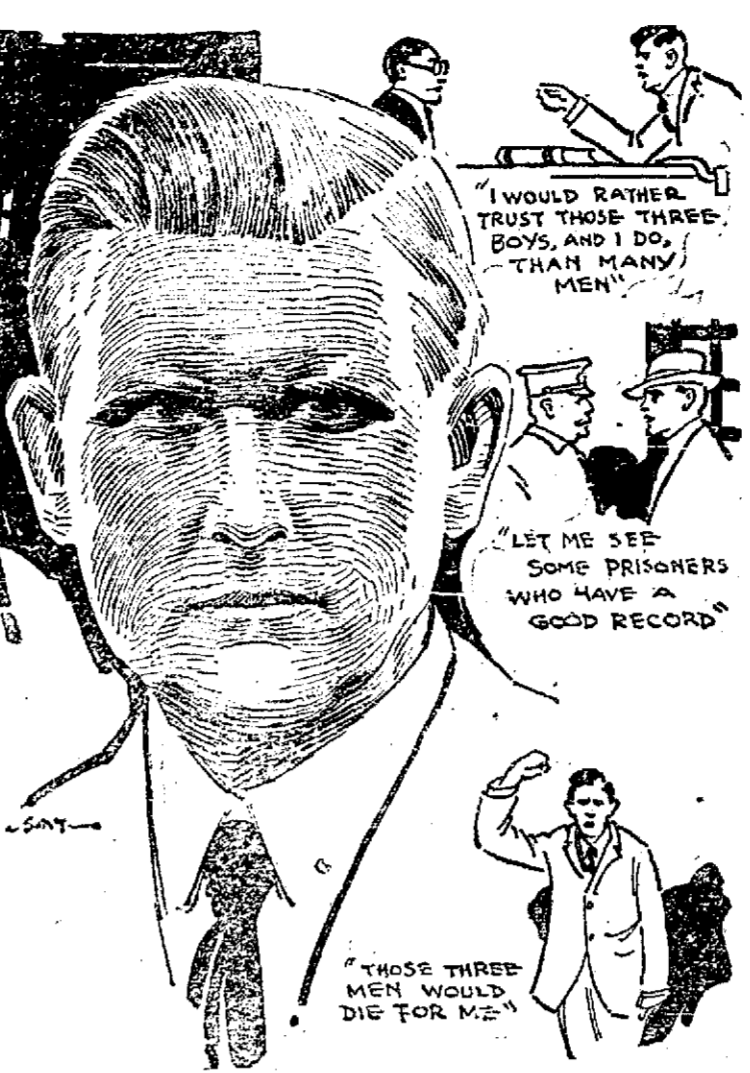

"We talk freely to each other. They bring their little troubles to me. Nothing is held back. It is difficult sometimes to make yourself understood; all I can tell you is that I trust them fully. Can I say more? I am not afraid to leave Mrs. Donahey or my daughter in the house with them. True, the New York banks. Incidentally, his Italian banks are staffed mostly by young Italians raised and trained in America.

Giannini is a giant physically as well as mentally. He concentrates all his vitality on the Bank of Italy and its ramifications. He has no side lines and permits no officers to have any side lines. Also, there are no take-offs for any one from the president down. His intimates describe him as an idealist, but an idealist who has the faculty, the stamina and the persistence to transform his ambitious dreams into successful realities. He works all the time. He had his bank so strong that during all the stress and strain following the post-war collapse, it never rediscouted a dollar at the Federal Reserve Bank. Among its first-line reserves it carries anywhere from $10,000,000 to $50,000,000 in Liberty bonds.

Says Mr. Giannini:
"Banking as interpreted by the Bank of Italy, has struck a new ethical note in the field of finance. We are all paid good salaries, and there are no remuneration stops. I do not make as much money now as I did when I was a member of a firm."

"A bank is in a measure a public service institution. It handles the people's money in much larger proportion than it does that of its stockholders. As it is able to serve, in direct ratio will it prosper, and the banker can never afford to forget this.

"The banker's salary as President and stock dividends used to total only a small part of his income," he assured his fortune by accepting and even demanding bonuses, by taking advantage of discounts, by charging higher interest rates, by foreclosing wherever there was the least excuse, by secret speculations, by the acceptance of stock gifts for financial aid and influence and by many other methods which were considered perfectly legitimate. These practices must be wiped out completely, for such profits come from the weight of the people's money and not through the qualifications of any single individual.

"The development of our nation's resources demands big capital and there are civilian employees too, but that would make no difference.

"I mention this because in a small way—an experimental way, if you will—it is exactly what would happen if society itself would do the same with all men who come back who really deserve a second chance.
"I do not allow my three boys to delude themselves. They know they are going back some day into society. 'You have committed crimes, boys,' I tell them. 'There's no use denying that. What you have to do is be big enough to look the world in the eye and make good. I'm sure the world will return such treatment in kind.'

"Some men in prison, of course, are too far gone. They are hopeless. The only place for them is behind walls. But the one thing that is deepest in my heart is a longing to help those poor fellows who slipped once. 'Separate them from the hopeless ones. Don't keep them in dirty cells and behind walls all day long. Get them out on the farms. Give them a place to breathe the sunlight, to work with God's tools, to prepare themselves to come back.'

"What leads to most of the crime among this class of so-called criminal? Passion. Anger and jealousy. Case after case may be seen over there behind those walls. Punish them, of course. But not in a way that it is impossible for them to be decent men any more.

"The crying need of the world today is old-fashioned discipline in both public and private life. We need officers to administer the laws who understand not only the letter of it but the spirit as well. We need discipline in the family. You can remember when almost all families said 'grace' before meals. How many families do that now? Those little things count in youth.

"The other night they electrocuted a man here. I went out of my way to find some thread of excuse to give him another chance. I don't want to have a man killed. It is only when there is no other thing to do that I let it go ahead."

One thing the governor insisted upon, was the appointment of a special clemency board, two men trained in that work who could devote all of their time to this sifting the hopeless ones from those society may reclaim. And some day—well, Donahey has his dreams, dreams not unmixed with hard practical common sense.

DREAM OF YEARS COMES TRUE

Chinaman Completes Railway System in Native Land

ACQUIRED WEALTH IN U. S.

Rises from Track Laborer to Transportation King

SEATTLE, Wash.—(Associated Press)—Marches and clashing of the opposing armies in China have not disturbed the serenity of Chin Gee Hee, one time track laborer, laundryman and merchant in Seattle and now president of the Sun Ning Railway, greatest in South China. He is the friend who have kept the Seattle friends who have kept in touch with the "Chinese Jim" in Seattle.

Despite his 78 years, Chin Gee Hee remains actively at the head of the various enterprises which have earned for him the sobriquet "King of South China" since his return to his native country from the Pacific Coast in 1907.

The Sun Ning Railway, first in China to be constructed by Chinese capital independent of aid from any government, is the fruit of a dream that came to Chin Gee Hee 60 years ago when, as a common laborer, he aided in the construction of branch line of the Southern Pacific in California. Two years before he had begun life as a laborer in the California gold fields.

Chin Gee Hee held to his vision. In the seventies he went north and worked on the construction of the old Columbia and Puget Sound Railway, now a part of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul system. It was not long before he became a contractor in a small way, using Chinese labor, and by the time the road was completed he had acquired some capital.

STORE DESTROYED
In the early 80's Chin Gee Hee established a small laundry here, branching out as a merchant in partnership with Chin Ching Hock. Following this venture he founded the Qong Tuck company, a mercantile establishment still in business under the direction of his nephew, Chin Keny.

The fire of 1893 which destroyed the business section of the city took Chin Gee Hee's store along with the rest, but before the ruins were cold he had started the construction of the first brick building erected in Seattle after the fire. It still stands.

During the anti-Chinese riots of 1886, Chin Gee Hee was ordered from the city by a mob, but remained under the protection of a small group of residents.

The erstwhile track worker kept in his mind the project of an independent railroad for China, and thru the influence of Seattle friends attracted the notice of James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railroad. Hill advised him from his own experience and invited him to make a trip as his guest over the principal lines of the United States. In 1903 Chin Gee Hee returned to China and shortly thereafter, the construction of the Sun Ning Railway was begun.

Railway men have praised construction of the road—built without the aid of a single foreigner—as one of the finest pieces of engineering work in the Orient.

Decorated by the late Chinese emperor, Chin Gee Hee retained the confidence of his country's leaders after the change in government. The road is protected by a special guard of soldiers from the Canton Army.

12,000 MILE RAIL LINE PLANNED

Not from London to Australia by Train is Program

JOURNEY OF TWO WEEKS

Change of Carriages During Trip to be Avoided

LONDON — (United Press) — From London to Australia by train in a fortnight is the ambitious project put forward by Lord Strathpey, prominent student of industrial and economic problems.

Strathpey contends that there are no insuperable engineering or constructional difficulties about the building of a continuous land line from Europe, Asia Minor, Persia, India and the Malay Peninsula, with a short sea ferry route to Northern Australia, thus making an almost straight line from London to Sydney.

What the Canadian Pacific Railway is to Canada and the Trans-Siberian to Russia, could be duplicated by an "all land" route to Australia, he quotes James A. Arnold, the consulting engineer, in support of his scheme.

Strathpey is a typical representative of the British Empire, holding a Scottish peerage, a Nova Scotia baronetcy, and having been born in New Zealand. He raised and served with New Zealand and contingents in South African and European wars.

12,000 MILES LONG
Pointing out that the principal difficulties about the construction of an London-Australia line would be political rather than natural, he says: "Of the 12,000 miles separating London from Sydney only 720 are necessarily water, which could be crossed by train ferries, thus obviating the necessity of changing carriages."

"By far the greater part of the route 10,000 miles, would be perfectly level, existing on a 1.750 mile for grading, junctions, etc. As regards the 720 miles of train ferry, the only serious ocean current to be crossed would be between the Isle of Turner and Queensland, but as the currents are tidal between the long belt of islands, it might be necessary to build locks at the ports. All along the land route there is natural power in abundance, and no mechanical difficulties to await experienced engineers, so that the main difficulty would be obtaining concessions from the countries traversed."

Further, Lord Strathpey points out it is not a question of building 12,000 miles of railways for large sections of the route are already in existence across Europe and India, for instance. In any event such a vast artery of civilization would provide work for hundreds of thousands of unemployed for years to come. Minerals, grain, meat, vegetables, chemicals and raw materials abound at every hundred miles of the route, thus aiding construction and providing a ready-made goods traffic backwards and forwards.

SAVING IN TIME
The saving of time from the point of view of passenger service would be immense. Instead of from 35 to 50 days as required at present, it could be done in 13 days—less than a fortnight instead of six weeks. At fifty miles an hour 7,150 miles would take ten days; say two days for the ferry to cover 720 miles at 15 miles an hour and add one day for stops and changes.

GIRL GIVES CLUE IN SLAYER HUNT

Her Story Turns Chase of Whitfield Toward Denver

RENOUNCES LOYALTY TO HIM

Bloodspots Are Found on Seized Murder Car

CLEVELAND—(Associated Press) —John L. Whitfield, under indictment here for the first degree murder of Patrolman Dennis Griffin of this city, is believed to be headed for Denver, Colo., according to newspaper advices received here from Madison, Wis., where Marie Price, his 14-year-old companion, is being held.

Cleveland officers in Madison declare they learned from Miss Price that several times in his flight from Cleveland, Whitfield had inquired as to the best road to Denver and that he told her he eventually would go there. The girl is said to have renounced her loyalty to the fugitive.

Detective Lieutenant Charles O. Nevel and Assistant County Prosecutor Henry J. Williams of Cleveland who are in Madison, were prepared today to start for Muskegon, Wis., in the western part of the state, the address state. They are convinced that Whitfield has doubled back on his trail to Green Bay in an effort to throw off pursuit. The roadster in which Whitfield and the Price girl made their cross-country flight will be used in the chase.

CAR BLOODSTAINED
It was in this car that Patrolman Griffin is believed to have been murdered. The machine was seized by Madison police when Whitfield and the girl were captured Tuesday night and Whitfield broke away from the officers. Bloodstains are said to have been found on the seat cushions and sides of the car.

Prosecutor Williams had contemplated going to Chicago today with the Price girl and her mother, but abandoned the plans upon receipt of definite reports that Whitfield was seen near Muskegon. Police, railroads, telephone exchanges and newspapers in the vicinity of that place have been asked to be on the lookout for the fugitive.

Your blood changes in the Spring. Why?

YOUR blood is thicker and more sluggish in winter than in summer—it has to be to keep you warm. Then comes warmer days and lighter clothes. Your blood, still thick and heavy-laden, is slow to throw off its impurities. What happens? The impurities crowd out through the skin, making it itchy and pimply. The remedy for this condition is S. S. S. It is the ideal blood purifier, because the medicinal properties are purely vegetable. It is a glorious fact that S. S. S. has given new, long-forgotten strength to older people and has made many old and young people look years younger. Blood is life—it's your foundation—make it rich—get blood strength—we all need it, especially rheumatism. S. S. S. will give you greater energy, strength and endurance.

Mr. Harry C. Bachman, 4735 Main Ave., Norwood, Ohio, writes: "I had skin eruptions—pimples and blackheads. I took S. S. S. and was happily surprised at the results. I got in less than three weeks' time."

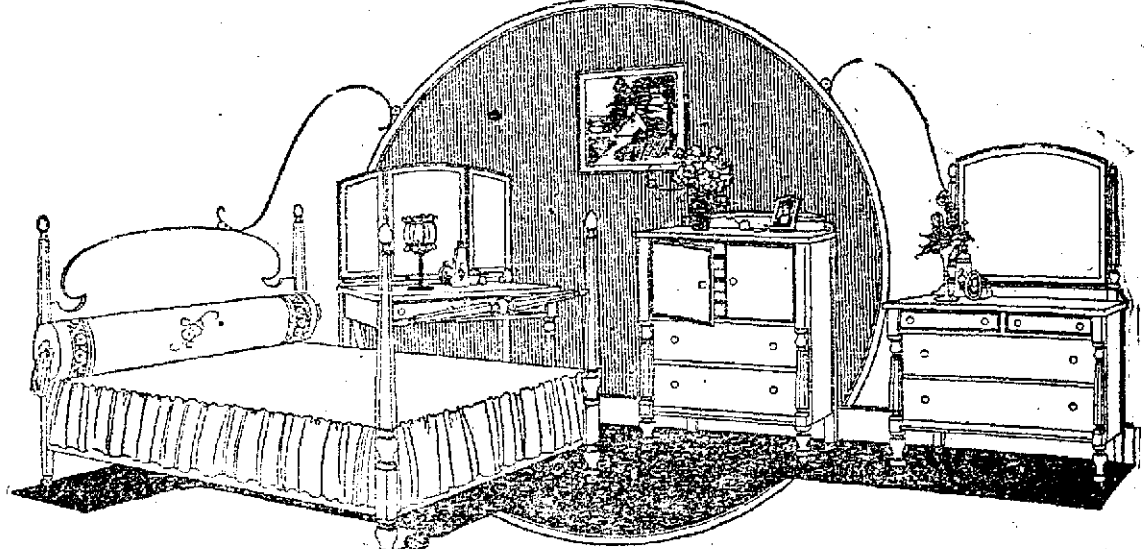

Try it yourself. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size is more economical. Get a bottle today!

49 PUBLIC SQUARE

$14,500,000 PAID OUT FOR RELIEF

This is Sum Spent Yearly by American Red Cross
GIVEN IN 372 DISASTERS
Work of 40 Years to be Celebrated This Summer

WASHINGTON. — (Associated Press) — Forty years of relief work in fire, flood, war and other disasters will be celebrated by the American Red Cross this summer. Since 1882 the society has been offering the medical aid, food, shelter and money to the victims of the world's calamities, in peace as well as in war, and now Red Cross societies declare, while the primary conception of Red Cross societies was relief in war time, the American society has recognized its greatest task as the amelioration of suffering in peace.

"The sick and wounded victims of epidemics and natural calamities suffer none the less because they are not spring from war," says Ernest P. Bicknell, vice-chairman and former national director of the American Red Cross, writing in the society's official bulletin, the Red Cross Courier. "The treaty of Geneva, which is the foundation and charter of all Red Cross societies, makes no provision for any activities outside those connected directly with armies and with war. Not a great many years elapsed, however, before the world began to realize that the underlying idea of the Red Cross was more widely applicable to conditions of life."

SOCIETY'S GROWTH
The policy of the American society early became that of peace time preparedness for war's emergencies, since relief in war was the charter reason for its existence. To be prepared for war, its officers declared, it must maintain an active and efficient machine between wars.

From the reorganization on this basis in 1905, the society dates its real growth in that public confidence and understanding which has brought it to its present place in American life.

Based upon its years of experience, the society now prepares for coming disasters with a reasonable certainty as to when they will occur, where they will occur, and the character of the relief to be needed. For instance, it knows that it is reasonable to expect cyclones in the southern and southwestern states in the early spring months. Destructive floods usually occur in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys also in the spring and early summer. Mine disasters in general, but with exceptions, occur in the spring and fall at about the time when winter passes into summer or autumn passes into winter. Forest fires usually occur in the extreme northern part of the country in the late summer.

Previous to 1905, the year of reorganization, the average yearly cost of disaster relief was about $100,000. Since 1919 the average cost has been about $14,500,000. Since 1881 the American Red Cross has extended relief in 372 disasters, including floods, cyclones, plagues, fires, volcanic eruptions, earthquakes, mine disasters, epidemics, riots and relief of the destitute, at a total expenditure of more than $20,573,000.

GERMANY CLOSES WAR HOSPITALS

Only 75 of 1,000 Operating at End of Conflict Remain

DISABLED RAPIDLY CURED

Thousands of Widows and Orphans Are Cared For

BERLIN. — (United Press.) — Germany is slowly closing her soldier hospitals. Only about 75 of the original thousand hospitals used at the end of the war for her soldiers wounded are now being operated as such and plans are underway to close four within a few weeks. Germany—defeated in the world war—has taken care of her wounded soldiers and the survivors of her soldier dead as probably no other nation in the war. According to complete figures Germany lost 1,846,293 killed in the war and 4,247,844 were wounded.

During the war Germany began the task of pensioning officers and taking care of wounded and survivors of soldier dead and at the end of the war a complete governmental branch was established with thousands of employees for the purpose of settling claims. Within a short time the cases of 1,537,000 wounded were settled as well as 1,945,000 cases of survivors of soldier dead—including 533,000 widows, 134,000 half orphans, 58,000 full orphans, 58,000 aged parents and 182,000 widowed or widowed parents. Besides the new pensions granted officers and the outlay for wounded and surviving relatives, the government continued paying pensions to 220,000 invalids and 16,000 surviving relatives on the lists at the outbreak of the world war. After the war Germany undertook the task of curing her wounded—treating officers and men alike in this respect. On October 1, 1919, one thousand soldier hospitals were in use throughout Germany. Now only 75 are maintained, whereof 23 are for permanently disabled or incurable. Special hospitals are maintained for lung diseases, jaw injuries and brain diseases. In 1921 a total of 23,000 cures were effected.

By mail one year $5 out of the city. By carrier 15c per week.

OPEN LETTERS

To Postmaster Gale

DEAR AL: My attention has been called to the condition of cards in city mail boxes which are supposed to inform the public when collection of mail is made. Most of these cards cannot be read and in their present state are of no value to the public.

It would be a big service to my people if you would have new cards placed in these boxes.

LIMA BEANE

To Ex-Congressman Volstead

DEAR ANDY: Altho you have gone back to the old home town, a private citizen, your work goes marching on. Down in my 'air little city, you have an ally in the work of helping make the country a little drier that you probably know nothing about.

I have just learned of a 100 per cent increase in the price of prescriptions for medicinal spirits with some of my doctors of medicine. Where they cost one smacker heretofore, they knock one off for two now. Then the druggist gets two sinoleons for the half pint, making a grand total of $16 a quart and you can get a quart only every 40 days if you're honest. Cheer news, eh Andy?

LIMA BEANE

To City Manager Bingham

DEAR CLARENCE: That old public square is causing me trouble again. It is even worse in many respects than it was before the traffic rules were changed. Now one is absolutely unable to figure out on which side he is most likely to be hit by rum' and goin' autoists.

And in the safety zone (?) at the Lima Trust corner one is about as safe as he would be smoking in a powder mill. They drive thru it at breakneck speed and woe be unto the pedestrian who is unlucky and jumps the wrong way.

I realize the difficulty of pleasing everyone in the matter of traffic. Only thru experiments can the best method be discovered, but I would recommend that you make a careful survey of the system now in vogue before arriving at a decision that will establish a permanent traffic code for this troublesome piece of real estate.

LIMA BEANE

To the Lima Trust Co.

GENTLEMEN: Allow me to congratulate you on the wonderful growth of your institution during the first 20 years of its existence. It is a monument to enterprise of the men at the helm and a great asset to my community.

Announcement that you will erect a beautiful new building and make other plans for increasing service of your bank is particularly gratifying to me and is a step in the direction of giving my excellent city a thing it has long needed—a big bank capable of floating heavy industrial loans to keep business at home.

Your motto, I understand, is "Service." Your decision in the matter of expansion proves that motto is not mere idle words, but a thing to be backed up by progress that makes real service possible. I thank you.

LIMA BEANE

To Governor Donahey

DEAR VIC: You have undertaken a big job. Your intentions to stop gambling on baseball games are commendable, but I'm afraid you will not be governor long enough nor live long enough to see the thing you say must be done accomplished.

And so my wife, poor wretch, tied in vain to get her to write Dick Gensel a For Sale sign for the Shick. Which I could not get her to do. In fact no man can get them to do what they want them to do. Yet God bless 'em, neither can we do without them.

Down to the Backstop for breakfast on rustic hen fruit and sweet cakes. And Pushey Burke himself baked the cakes. To Henry Ford

DEAR SIR: The general manager of your D. T. & L. Railroad, Mr. F. L. Ronkleman, was in my city yesterday. Coincident with his denial that you are contemplating railroad improvements here, the G. M. said he had not conferred with my city officials and "did not even know their names."

I regret that he has not met them, Henry, 'or I appreciate complete cooperation between my city and all utilities connected with or passing thru it. Will you please have Mr. Ronkleman take off a few minutes some day and drop in for a little friendly visit with my official family?

To Fred Loeschner

MY DEAR FRED: Mighty glad am I that since you are superintendent of my beautiful Faurot park, you are more interested in the animals provided for the zoo than merely as a caretaker.

To Colonel John A. Harley
To Harry L. Breckenridge

MY FRIENDS: It is generally accepted that the office should seek the man, but in these latter years it is coming to be the practice for the man to seek the office.

I congratulate you that you are in the former class and that your services as members of my city commission thus far are held to be of such a character as to impel the Committee of 200 to unanimously request that you consent to submitting your names for renomination and reelection.

It is an honor you should not view lightly.

LIMA BEANE

To Congressman Cable

MY DEAR JOHN: You have rather surprised me in declaring so emphatically against President Harding's international court plan. I had expected one or more of the Ohio Republican delegation in congress to point out a few facts the president has apparently overlooked, but I hadn't thought of you in that capacity.

Doubtless you realize, John, that your step can result in but one of two things, dependent upon the turn of future events. Opposition to the court as the hobby of the chief executive, will either make or break you politically. I sincerely trust it will not be the latter.

LIMA BEANE

To the Weather Man

OLD TOP: I'm getting tired of complaining. It seems to have little effect on you, but certainly you must get over your fit of temper ere long. These cold nights are getting on my nerves. I feel I'm doing my duty by the coal men in burning fuel at $10 and $11 a ton seven or eight months out of the year. When you stretch that time, it's too much. Be reasonable!

NERVES

When we say some one has "nerve" or that it takes "nerve" to do some things we are speaking in a figurative and not a literal way, just as we do when we say "His heart is broken," "his blood boils," or "his palm itches."

There is no such thing as working or living or keeping up on one's "nerve" in the common figurative sense of the term, that is expending energy which arises in some mysterious manner from the nervous system, which never in any circumstances produces energy. There is no such thing as "nervous tension," either. If there is any tension involved, it is quite as accurately described as blood tension or arterial tension or kidney or heart or pancreatic tension. Picking on the "nerves" as the offending structure is simply playing on popular credulity.

There is no such thing as a nerve builder in the shape of medicine or food or any combination of medicine and food. Notwithstanding the fact that three thousand—or is it thirty thousand—physicians have signed testimonials to the effect that well disguised cottage cheese mixed with some inert mineral salt is a nerve builder, this notion is pure hokum.

The only good excuse for the use of the term "nervous breakdown" is as an alibi and as an alibi it can't be beaten. The judge himself believes in it and seldom fails to approve it. Speaking of Judges, it is just about nip and tuck whether the medical profession as a whole is the more glib in matters of business or the legal profession in matters of medicine and health. Some inquiries I get from lawyers and judges are so funny that I dare not print them in this column lest I be accused of invention. A shrewd lawyer is egregiously glib when a skillful chaldean takes him in hand. He makes the doctor who buys phony mine stock look like a piker.

Since no energy is produced by the nervous system it is quite obvious that the favorite idea of the tired business man that overwork causes his "nervous exhaustion" must be wrong. It is all wrong! And the saddest part of it is that it slanders work. Work is the one thing which folks who incline to "nervous exhaustion" positively will not do. If they could be persuaded to do a little honest work every day, just an hour or two, it would prove a steady influence.

SHORT WORK DAY IS OPPOSED

Steel Committee Refuses to Abandon 12-Hour System

LABOR SCARCITY FACED

Employees Not Injured by Present Plan, Report Says

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — The committee of the Iron and Steel Institute appointed recently to investigate the feasibility of abandoning the twelve hour day in the steel industry, reported today thru Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, that it could not at this time recommend such a step.

Gary made it plain that the committee did not consider its report conclusive or final. But under present conditions, he said, the shortening of the workday would create an acute situation in the industry due to the dearth of labor and the extensive demands for steel and iron products.

He said at least 15 per cent would be added to the cost of steel and iron production and the industry would require 6,000 more employees.

The committee found, he continued, that the twelve hour day was not of itself detrimental to their employees physically, mentally or morally.

The committee also recommended less rigid restrictions on immigration in order that industries of the country in need of labor could obtain it at that source.

The report on the 12 hour day was the first public statement of the committee named by Gary, with himself as chairman, after a dinner with President Harding at the White House where the subject was the chief topic of discussion.

FINDINGS OF COMMITTEE
"Apparently the underlying reason for the agitation which resulted in the appointment of this committee was based on a sentiment, not created or endorsed by the workmen themselves, that the 12 hour day was an unreasonable hardship upon the employees who were connected with it; that it was physically injurious to a large percentage of the employees; and that it interfered with family associations essential to the welfare of the children, that for those reasons it was, in a sense opposed to the public interest," the report began.

"Whatever will be said against the 12 hour day in the steel industry, investigation has convinced this committee that the same has not of itself been an injury to the employees, physically, mentally or morally. Whether or not in the large majority of cases, 12 hour day men devote less time to their families than the employees working less hours is perhaps questionable.

"Because the steel industry is largely a continuous process, there must be three eight hour shifts or two twelve hour shifts, the committee believes. The workmen as a rule prefer the longer shift because it means more pay, they find. And there is less physical work, as a total per day, and less fatigue from the work of a 12 hour day in the steel industry than pertains to the large majority of eight hour men."

"Therefore, under present conditions, in view of the best interests of both employees and employers and of the general public, the committee cannot at this time report in favor of the total abolition of the 12 hour day."

ROOF IS RELEASED
Ivan Roof, 24, of 1016 E. Market st. arrested at Toledo Wednesday on charge of moving mortgaged property out of Allen-co. was released by Justice E. M. Botkin at a hearing Friday. Settlement was arranged in the case.

CHANGE SLIGHT IN BRITISH CABINET

Only One New Member is Chosen by Baldwin

LONDON — (United Press) — King George returned from Aldershot today and immediately convened a privy council, dealing with final formalities in connection with acceptance of the cabinet of Premier Stanley Baldwin.

Premier Baldwin attended the privy council, at Buckingham Palace. The king also formally received the premier, who kissed His Majesty's hand — part of the formality of his appointment as prime minister.

Lord Robert Cecil who became known to thousands of Americans during his recent speaking tour in the United States, is a member of the cabinet, having accepted the appointment as chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster.

The other posts are filled by the same men who held them in the ministry of Bonar Law.

EFFICIENCY PLANS FOR RAIL MEN ARE EVOLVED

More efficiency on the Pennsylvania Railroad is being sought in a campaign being staged according to A. E. Butin, district passenger representative of the road, with headquarters in Chicago.

Butin, with J. B. Hooley, passenger and ticket agent in Lima, were working out plans Friday to put the campaign on among railroaders here.

Details are being worked out and one aim of the drive is to have an average mileage of 30 miles a day for all freight cars by next October.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, according to Butin, has brought this average on the northwestern region up to 27.63 miles a day.

Every phase of railroad work will be improved by the drive, officials believe.

THEATRE CHARGES NO ADMISSION

But Makes Money by Taking up Free-Will Offering

PAY OR NOT, AS YOU PLEASE

Gratis Playhouse Shows Profit on New Plan

NEW YORK. — (Special). — How would you like to go to the theatre free?

They do it in New York. You can come, look, listen and then walk out without paying. But if you like to show real well and want to show your appreciation, you may drop something in a collection basket which a pretty girl passes around.

Butler Davenport, actor-manager-producer-playwright, started this free theatre in his Bramhall Playhouse, New York's smallest theatre. It seems it paid, for after several weeks trial he announced a "sell-out" every night.

Eventually he hopes to move into a larger place which will be known as a People's theatre. Meanwhile he is kept busy writing his plays, producing them, arranging the settings, and watching out that his audience of 208 each night is pleased.

HERE'S RESULTS
If all theatre managers follow Davenport's plan, theatre-going will become an even greater pleasure, for then:

There won't be any wrangling with sassy box office men. You can change your mind about going to a performance any time you want to. Your favorite head bag won't be filling up all the time with theatre seat stubs. No one is going to say: "My goodness, Henry, I thought you told me these were aisle seats!" And if you wander in on Hedda Gabler some time under the impression that it's a musical comedy, you can take a nasty revenge by dropping two bone buttons in the collection plate.

QUITS POKER TO ESCAPE JAIL

Spencerville Man Makes Promise to Judge Becker

GUY ROLLER GIVEN CHANCE

Pleads Guilty to Charge of Operating "Fence"

Guy Roller, 25, Spencerville garage man made his choice in common pleas court Friday between going up poker playing or going to prison.

He promised Judge Fred C. Becker to quit gambling and turn over a new leaf. Unlucky at cards, Roller lost him to turn to his losses he admitted. Payments were due on his business and there was the wife and child to think of. He took a chance and lost.

His place in Spencerville became the rendezvous of tire and accessory thieves, who sold him their loot, hauled from garages and stores within a 50 mile radius of the village, officials state.

Confessions obtained by authorities when the ring was broken up, involved Roller. Search made by detectives in Spencerville revealed that he had received stolen tires. Part of the tires stolen at Convoys were sold to Roller, it was learned and thru him transferred to innocent parties. A number of them being coming suspicious turned the tires over to Sheriff Crosson.

Roller, denied the charge when arrested, but later made a full confession and changed his plea to guilty.

Three years ago, Roller, told the court, he was a tire maker in Akron. When the factory closed down he was out of a job. He studied tire repairing and set up a shop at Spencerville, partly on savings, partly on borrowed money.

Then he began meeting the boys who were repairing and playing poker. The stakes were not high all the time, but when the game became warm, he was the limit, Roller said. Sometimes he won sometimes he lost.

It was during one of these unlucky streaks that Roller commenced buying tires, disclosures were made.

"I see no excuse for this," Judge Becker told the defendant. "You should be sent to prison. You are old enough to know right from wrong and to know that anything you get in this world, you've got to pay for one way or another. I'm not giving you another chance, because of your wife and child. But on one condition," added the court, "that you stop playing poker and report to the sheriff every week."

WEATHERMAN IS OFF HIS FEED

Unable to stick to the straight and narrow way in affording desirable weather conditions for more than a few days at a time, the forecaster wandered off on a tangent Friday, with a prediction of rain. He did not forget to report that the temperature will remain about the same.

Unsettled, with showers Saturday and in west and south portions, tonight, is a forecast which impels owners of shower sticks to make an inventory of rain shedding devices.

Old Sol started off bravely enough early in the morning, but a battle with rain clouds later in the day, toward noon, was undecided when this comment was chased thru a typewriter.

"Wouldn't be a bit surprising should rain patter onto the earth before the time specified in the prognosticator's forecast. There were pretty favorable indications of something of that sort before mid day.

Oldest inhabitants are puzzled over the state of weather conditions. The season apparently endeavoring to reverse themselves and have been attaining some measure of success in that direction.

Straw hats and overcoats provide an odd combination frequently seen in public places.

FRIENDS OF CHIROS IN JAIL FOR 41 DAYS WILL APPEAL TO THE GOVERNOR

An appeal to the Governor A. Vic Donahay may be made soon by patients of two incarcerated Lima chiropractors who went to jail Thursday night rather than pay fines for practicing medicine without license.

They are Glenn V. John and Glenn L. Potter. The two practitioners surrendered at the county jail late in the afternoon, and were placed behind the bars by Sheriff Crosson after the usual preliminaries.

Few of the inmates who were in jail during the previous sentence served by the two healers were on hand to welcome them back.

Both of the practitioners declare it is no pleasure to face another 41 day confinement, but they are fighting for a principle they state. "We go to jail now," they declared, "that members of our profession may obtain recognition. We will win in the end. This is persecution and the public is with us."

The movement to appeal to Governor Donahay is being headed by Mrs. A. F. Lindemann, 230 S. Main-st; David DeVries, 1003 W. North-st; Mrs. Mary Michael, 836 W. Spring-st, and others.

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD TO HIM

Stomach, Liver and Kidneys Seem Like New Since He Took Plant Juice

IMPROVED FROM THE FIRST

Many people who had suffered for years and tried scores of medicines without results have taken this surprising herbal medicine, Plant Juice, and said that they could notice improvement from the first dose. Another case of this kind was described to the Plant Juice Man recently by Mr. David Trainer, of Roanoke, Indiana, who said:

"I had been in bad health for years and had taken many different medicines and treatments but did not get any better. But I will say that I began to improve from the first dose of your Plant Juice medicine and now, since I have taken three bottles, my friends tell me I look like a different person."

"I suffered from the rheumatism in my shoulders, arms and legs. My stomach was out of order and so bad that the lightest kind of food would sour and ferment in my stomach and cause me to have violent gas pains. My liver and kidneys were out of order and I always had a pain in my left side which I was told was caused by my spleen. I was so constipated that I would have to take the strongest kind of laxatives and I had gotten to the point where I had just about lost all hope."

"My friends begged me to try your Plant Juice medicine and I am surely glad now that I did so because I am not only looking like a new person but I also feel like one. My liver, kidneys and stomach seem to be like new. I have been relieved of those rheumatic pains. I do not suffer now from the constipation. Your medicine has certainly been worth its weight in gold to me and I gladly endorse it."

The Plant Juice man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office—Adv.

ANOTHER pleasing compliment that has been paid to Mrs. Frank Eversole's house-guest, Mrs. Edward Lubanks of Chicago, was the attractive bridge-tee given by Mrs. Perry Bechtel, Friday afternoon at her home, 209 S. Cole st. Following the card game, a buffet tea was served, Mrs. Nettle Craig, mother of Mrs. Bechtel, pouring. For a centerpiece on the dining room table, a basket of pink apple-blossoms and blue-bells was used. Other appointments were carried out in the pink and blue color scheme.

Those who accepted the hospitality of Mrs. Bechtel were: Mrs. Frank Eversole, Mrs. H. C. Potter, Mrs. S. B. McGinnis, Mrs. E. H. Sawyer, Mrs. Ira Busick, Mrs. W. H. Borman, Mrs. Lee Copeland, Mrs. Otto Miller, Mrs. D. A. Allgier, Mrs. J. S. O'Donnell, Mrs. Oia Campbell and Mrs. Lubanks.

Mrs. Clarence Klingner will present the following pupils in recital in the Crystal room of the Hotel Argonne, Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock: Miss Marguerite Torga, soprano; Miss Miriam Kameier, soprano; Miss Dorothy Roberts, contralto; Miss Inez Bernstein, soprano and George Borchers, baritone.

Members of the Bon Tromp club were entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. W. Jackman, F. Eureka-st, each bringing the afternoon's diversion. At the conclusion of the games, Mrs. E. C. Verbyke and Mrs. Willis Traubert held high scores. At four-thirty o'clock, the hostess served a two-course luncheon.

Mrs. Harry Smith, W. McKibben-st, will entertain the club members in two weeks.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I would very much like to meet her. She seems to be a different kind of a happy person. I will give the expression I would like to know her. I think you did not know her. I would like to find "Fred" and see if I could find him. I am making no secret of it when I tell you that I am in the care of the Lima News. I wish she may choose in her letter her address and we will give her "Fred" or "Freda" as she wishes, putting the "Fred" in the "Freda" and a good new friend and not one of the present day "Fred" or "Freda" in the "Freda" business. I will change letters with any or all who wish to address me in the care of the News.

I too, enjoyed Bobbie's letter and believe she is the type of girl well worth knowing. I am glad to print your letter and hope she will write you, care of The Lima News. By the way, isn't there just a tiny too much of a sarcastic tone in your letter?

Dear Miss Smart: I am 22 and I think a great deal of a young woman the same age. She has been going with a fellow for years but she has not been with him for a long time. I have been having dates with her, unknown to him. He is a good friend of mine and I don't feel justified in doing so without his knowledge. Now, Miss Smart, don't you think it would be proper to tell him? Whose place would it be to speak to him about it, she or I?

What has become of the proposed idea of placing chairs and slushers in our square? Why let a good thing drop?

I also think that if a friends club would be organized it would be a good thing for lots of young people, who are away from home, to make friends outside of those at public places.

I think it is entirely up to the girl you speak of to break off relations, with either you or the older fellow. You say she doesn't care for the other man. Then it is up to her to tell him that she does not care to have any more engagements with him. You are not the one that is in the wrong, so do not try to make amends with anyone.

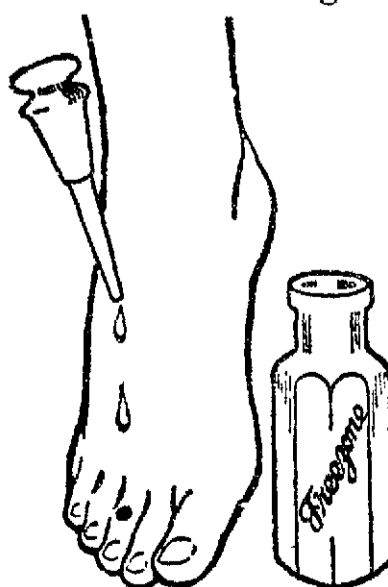

The public was divided upon the question of placing slushers in the square and consequently the matter was dropped.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a daily reader of your column and of course, I read the "M. B. H." of one of our respective girls. I am 22 and I care to write please forward him my name and address. I am 22 years of age, have grey eyes, brown hair, and a fair complexion. Please publish my letter.

Altho, I do not have E. M.'s address at present, perhaps he will send it to me after reading your letter. If so, I will give him your name.

(BY JAMES W. DEAN)

NEW YORK — There is only one way for a grown-up to thoroughly enjoy a fantasy, and that is to become a little child again, implicitly believing everything the author writes. Doubt is the ugliest monster in human existence. Doubts kill Santa Claus and changes fancies into ogres and turn lovely goddesses into things of clay. Thus, I recommended to simple, guileless souls the story called "Lady Into Fox." If you will only put yourselves in the attitude of believing that no author lies you will enjoy the revelation of the most unusual occurrence that ever befell man.

Mr. Tebrick was walking along a road in Oxfordshire with his bride. As they stopped to watch a hunt she drew her hand from his and cried out. Where his wife had been before was a small fox, of a very bright red. The fox had the eyes of his wife.

Tebrick waited until night and took his wife, now a vixen, home under his coat. He discharged his servants and shot his dogs and for a time lived happily, his dressing in a very becoming gown and eating toast and jam with him at the table. Tebrick's happiness was short lived. The characteristics of fox gradually overcame the characteristics of lady. Mrs. Tebrick killed a rabbit and ate it, skin and all. At last she ran away and her husband was sorely tormented. Later he found her in the woods with a litter of little whelps.

The romance came to an end when Mrs. Tebrick was pursued by hounds and was killed while her husband held her in his arms. Tebrick, gaunt man, was severely wounded in her defense.

David Garnett, the author, vouches for the truth of the story. In fact, Tebrick is still alive, he says. If I didn't believe this story I wouldn't think it such a fine tale.

SCOTT FITZGERALD takes a flight into the realm of fantasy in "The Vegetable," a farce in play form. His hero, Jerry Frost, had always been ambitious to be president, but his natural inclination was toward the work of postman. His wife had made him a railroad clerk.

A bootlegger furnished Jerry with a gallon of "sympathetic" gin, which, imbued with Jerry immediately to the presidency. The state of Idaho demands Jerry's impeachment, so Jerry seeks to swap Idaho and five million dollars for Idaho and five million dollars for the Buzzard Islands, property of Irish Poland.

Jerry's presidential term lasts only a week, evidently, for he is soon back home delivering letters, trying to please people by giving them letters he thinks appropriate, and happy in the belief that he is the best letter carrier in the country.

The blurb on the jacket says three theatrical producers refused this farce, but that "two severe and celebrated dramatic critics" held out for it. For the business of the theatre it seems to me that the producers had the sounder judgment, but that as not gainsaying the fact that "The Vegetable" is a fascinating reading of the lighter sort.

MARGARET CULKIN BANNISTER has achieved a very skillful weaving of two themes in "Country Club People." The book is a mirror of small minds, hypocrites swayed by pretty prejudices. Among them is one girl with a will of her own, who maintains a judicious attitude toward all about her, having an independent estimate of acts and persons. She is the principal character of the story, but moving along like a picture in the background of a picture is the romance of her father and a young girl. It represents a mature man's bid for the return of youth. It is the story of "Cynthia" viewed from a point widely separated from that taken by Hergesheimer.

MEMOIRS as a rule make poor reading for a busy book reviewer. They usually concern people about whom much is generally known. "The Nineteen Hundreeds" of Horace Wyndham is different in that respect. It deals with people he calls "nobodies." Dealing with actors, playwrights, novelists, critics and the like I found the book so engrossing that I have read 217 of its 271 pages in a week in which many new works of fiction clamor for attention.

TURNING THE PAGES

Jane Abbott has been called the successor of Louisa May Alcott. Her new book, "Minglestreams," is such a romance as Louisa Alcott wrote (having matured enough by now to admit that I used to read girls' books). Recommended to mothers seeking the "right kind of books" for adolescent daughters. "The sound of a kiss is not so loud as that of a cannon, but its echo lasts a deal longer." This quotation from Holmes is the theme of "Echo," by Margaret Rivers Lammie. It concerns the happy ending for a girl who has bravely faced the consequences of an early mistake. Receiving a copy of "Through the Wheat," Thomas Boyd's story of Belleau Wood, and passed it on to a man who had fought there. He tells me it is "the real goods."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Calvin Gray, stepping in Dallas in the most expensive suite in the most exclusive hotel, is the enemy of Colonel Henry Nelson, son of Bill Nelson, banker. Gray becomes friendly with the Briskow family, who have struck oil. Besides Gus and Ma Briskow there is a daughter, Allegheny, and a son called Bud. Ma Briskow takes Ma and Alle to the mountains, where they stay at an expensive hotel. Alle has a tutor named Mrs. Ring. Bud is sent away to school. Gray is in love with Barbara Parker, known as Bob, who buys land for Colonel Henry Nelson.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

At such times Alle was more than disagreeable. Hate flamed in her eyes, she beat herself with her fists, she kicked the furniture, and she broke things. Once she even bit her head against the wall, uttering language meanwhile that all but caused her companion to swoon.

Mrs. Ring resigned after this final exhibition, but, lacking the courage to face Alle in a good mood like that, she went to Gus Briskow. "It is simply impossible to remain," she told him. "Already I'm a physical wreck, for I never get a moment's rest. The salary is attractive, but Allegheny is too much for me."

"You're kinda worked up, Mrs. Ring. Maybe I can make it pleasant for you."

"In what way, may I ask?"

"Well, by paying you more."

"You are generous. The salary we agreed upon isn't low."

"Try it, ma'am, for a little while. Maybe it won't bother you to much after you get used to it. Alle likes you."

"And I—I am interested in her. She is progressing, too; in fact, I have never seen anyone learn more rapidly. But—she is so unusual. Still, perhaps I am the one—perhaps it is my duty, under the circumstances—"

With this disposition to compromise the father had little difficulty in dealing, so the daily routine was continued.

Alle was sitting alone in her room one evening, gazed out from a hard day. Some people were talking on the veranda outside her window, and she heard one say:

"The girl can look really stunning."

"Exactly. I don't understand where she gets her looks, for her parents are—impossible. Wouldn't you know what they were?"

Alle needed no clearer indication of who was under discussion.

"She's a glorious rider," the first speaker was saying. "She passed me the other day, going like sin, with her face blazing and that big, lively chestnut running flat. The way she took that curve about the Devil's Slide brought my heart into my mouth."

The breathless eavesdropper felt a hot wave of delight pour over her, her very flesh seemed to ripple like the fur of a cat when it is stroked.

"Oh, she's a picture, mounted! Seems to have complete confidence in herself; and the strength of a giantess, too. But—my God! when she's on her feet! And have you heard her talk?" Evidently the other speaker had, for there came the sound of low laughter, a sound that stabbed Alle Briskow like a bayonet and left her white and furious.

She was unusually silent and somber for the next three or four days; she went through her exercises without vim; at her studies she was both stupid and sullen. When Mrs. Ring's patience was exhausted and her frayed nerves finally gave out, Alle rounded upon her with a violence unparalleled.

In a panic Mrs. Ring sought out Gus Briskow and again resigned. By this time, however, the novelty of her resignation had largely worn off, for seldom did more than two weeks elapse without a hysterical threat to quit. Gus decided, after some consideration, to wire Calvin Gray and offer to pay his travelling expenses if he would come to Burlington Notch for a few days.

CHAPTER XIV

Alle Shows Her Teeth

One accomplishment that Allegheny mastered with gratifying ease was dancing. It came naturally to her for both she and Buddy were full of music.

Having schooled her in the simpler forms of a ballroom dancing, Delamater suggested a course in the deeper intricacies of fancy dancing.

"You're getting on," he told her, one day. "That last was splendid—top hole—absolutely."

It was on that afternoon that Delamater had told the clerk of discovering Ma Briskow alone in the woods. There was an open golf tournament at the Notch, prominent amateurs and professionals were competing, and the hotel was crowded to its capacity with players, fashionable followers of the game and a small army of society reporters and sport writers.

Delamater was especially agreeable today, more than usually flattering. Not for some time did his scholar become conscious of the subtle change in his demeanor.

"They had become well acquainted by now and were on a basis of easy familiarity, nevertheless it came as a shock to Alle to be called by her first name—such a shock that she missed a step and trod on Delamater's foot. They came to a pause.

The dancing master was tall and slim, his face was on a level with hers, and now he smiled into it, saying, "My mistake, my dear."

"I—I reckon it was." The girl's eyes were glowing queerly, and the man was amused at her evident agitation. Her first word had thrown the poor thing into a flurry.

They began to dance again, and, after a moment, with a gently rising suggestion, Delamater murmured,

"You heard what I called you?" He approved of the sashet that Alle used, and he became neatly conscious of the jewels resting in the palm of his left hand. "You don't care?" he said, with his lips close to her ear.

"Humpf! I'm not caring for anything or anybody today."

It is the lot of any man in the heat of his desire to make mistakes, and Delamater erred gravely at this moment. He kissed Alle. Without warning he kissed her full and fair upon her red, half-open lips.

For the briefest instant of amazement the two stood motionless in the middle of the polished floor, while the phonograph played on, then Alle shook herself free of her partner, and in the same movement she smote him a mighty slap that sent him reeling.

With a cry he scrambled to his feet. "What the hell—?" he growled, savagely.

Alle's face was chalky. Breathlessly, curiously, she inquired, "What'd you do that for?"

"What did I do it for? Say! You ought to be complimented—ticked to death." Delamater rubbed his cheek and glared at her. "By God! I wish you were a man. Oh, don't worry, I won't touch you again! Who the hell would, after that?"

Alle opened her lips to speak, but he ran on more angrily as the palm hit into him. "Thought I meant it, eh? Why, you lumbering ox—"

"Then you ain't—in love with me—or anything?"

"Love?" The speaker uttered an unpleasant sound indicative of scorn. "Wake up, sister! What'd you take me for? Why, your mother talks bird talk, and your dad lives in a box stall and eats oats with his knife! Here I kid you along a little bit—slip you a kiss, as I would any girl, and you—you—"

Delamater stuttered impotently. "Love? I guess I'm the first regular fellow that ever gave you a chance."

Delamater was surprised when his pupil turned her back upon him, strode to the nearest window, and flung it open as if for air; his surprise deepened when she faced him again and moved in his direction. Her expression caused him to utter a profane warning, but she continued to bear down upon him, and when she reached out to seize him he struck at her as he would have struck at a man.

To those who are familiar with Burlington Notch, it will be remembered that the hotel is pitched upon a slope and that the rooms on the first floor of the east wing are raised a considerable distance above the lawn. The windows of these east rooms overlook the eighteenth green, and during tournaments they are favorite vantage points of golf widows and enthusiasts who are too old to follow the competitors around the course. Today they were filled, for an international title was at issue and Herring, prince of amateurs, was playing off the final round of his match with the dour Scotch professional, McCord.

A highly enthusiastic "gallery" accompanied the pair, a crowd, composed not only of spectators, but also of officials, defeated players, newspaper writers, camera men, caddies, and the like.

Out of the air overhead came the sound of a disturbance, and every face turned. A most amazing thing was in the way of happening, a phenomenon unique in the history of tournaments, for a man was being thrust forth from one of the hotel windows, perhaps twenty-five feet above the ground—a writhing, struggling, kicking man with saw-colored spats. He was being ejected pathetically but firmly, and by a girl—a girl-faced young woman of splendid proportions. For a moment she allowed him to dangle; then she dropped him into a handsome Dorothy Perkins rosebush. He landed with a shriek. Briefly the amazon remained framed in the casement, staring with dark defiance down into the upturned faces; her deep bosom was heaving, her smoky hair was slightly disarranged; she allowed her eyes to rest upon the figure entangled among the thorns beneath her, then she closed the window.

Mrs. Ring was waiting on the veranda for Gus Briskow when he returned to the hotel about dark. He had learned to dread the sight of her on that veranda, for it was her favorite resigning place—what Gus called her "quitting spot"—and it was evident tonight that she was in a quitting mood, a mood more hysterical than ever before. It was some time before he could not fully appreciate the enormity of the disgrace that had overwhelmed Alle's intractable.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER

I suppose nothing in this world turns out as you ever expect it. I had worked myself up into a very emotional state the last time I wrote a letter to be placed in the little secret drawer. I had determined that nothing should ever come between Jack and myself to make us unhappy any more. I said to myself how silly to let such a material thing as lack of money worry us, when we had so much love and health and youth to squander. Besides we had enough to supply our needs.

I had ordered a beefsteak. I wonder way off in your time, say little Marquise, if the men always wanted beefsteak. I believe my Jack would eat it five days out of six. Beefsteak, baked potatoes and combination salad.

So far everything was lovely, but here I met my Waterloo. Jack had always been telling me what wonderful apple pie his mother made, and I knew he always ordered it at every restaurant if it was on the bill of fare. So I determined to make him one for his dinner.

I looked through the splendid cook book his mother had given me, filled with her tried recipes, and found one for apple pie. I made it exactly as it was down in the book. Getting the dinner ready and making the pie took me until very late and I slipped the pie in the oven while I went up to dress after setting the table. Then I determined to do my hair a new way just to see if Jack would be better pleased with me. If he would get a thrill from having a new girl come to meet him.

I was very busy until the bell of the apartment rung violently. When I opened my bedroom door I found it filled with smoke and rushed to the door to find Jack fuming. He had forgotten his key and thought I was not there.

The moment he got into the room however, he almost shouted, "What's the fire?" And then I thought of my pie, my beautiful pie. It was burned to a crisp.

Jack had no sympathy for me whatever. In fact for the first time noticed that he had one of his bad spells on. I knew that something had gone wrong at the office, and I hurriedly opened a can of preserves and brought the baked potatoes and salad and steak, done to a turn, to the table. But even after he had eaten a great big dinner of this food, which he liked so much, he did not smile.

Instead, when I asked him what was the matter, he said, "Nothing at all. Can't a man be thinking over a difficult business problem without his wife feeling that he has got a grudge against the world, herself included?"

What's the fire? And then I thought of my pie, my beautiful pie. It was burned to a crisp.

SHRINERS TO TAKE WASHINGTON

450,000 Visitors Expected at Capital City June 3

WILL DOUBLE POPULATION

Daily Board Bill is Estimated at $5,000,000

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Cities have risen mushroom-like overnight during gold-rushes in the West, but not so Washington. It has doubled its population in a day. Yet that is what Washington expects to do during Shrine Week—June 3 to 10.

The Nation's Capital was a beehive of activity today preparing to play host to a multitude that will make the great inaugural crowds seem like the usual throngs of a city.

Washington, normally a city of 450,000, anticipates tucking away 900,000 each night of the week. The Nobles of the Lystic Shrine turn the city into a colorful Arab camp with red fez and bizarre zouave costumes.

A shriner with a bent for statistics has figured out that Washington's population today is 900,000. The Washington Monument—1,100 feet high—weighing 75,000,000 pounds. Broad Pennsylvania-av would make a narrow footpath for his 150 feet shoes and he would wear a fez the size of the capital dome.

HOUSES OPENED

The housing committee, having filed every available hotel has asked citizens to open their homes to this gigantic guest. Nearly 1500 Pullman cars standing in the terminal will house others and many thousands may be forced to go to the tent colony now being organized.

Washington's guest will pay a board bill of $5,000,000 a day. Washington merchants who have raised a fund of $500,000 for entertainment of their guest expect to reap a profit of $500,000 in ten days.

The hens of six states will be kept busy laying eggs for the crowd. "Old Boss" must give up 25,000 gallons of milk daily for coffee alone and the baker must furnish 250,000 loaves of bread. It is estimated that $2,500,000 pounds of meat will be eaten during the week of the carnival. The city authorities do not fear a famine, but they have taken the precaution to warn the residents to lay in a three-weeks' store of non-perishable food supplies in advance of the coming multitude.

REAL DESERT SHIEKS ARE OKEH!

MRS. EDWARD S. JORDAN

CLEVELAND — (Special) — After having crossed the Sahara Desert on the swaying hump of a camel and having lived for weeks among the nomads of the sand wastes, Mrs. Edward S. Jordan, society woman, says the shiek craze isn't so foolish, after all.

"The real shieks are magnificent specimens of manhood," says Mrs. Jordan. "Their features are handsome, their bodies excellently proportioned. And they are kindly, courteous, honorable, possess a fine feeling for romance and a delicate appreciation of poetry."

But from the untamed, hard-riding, hard-fighting shiek of the Sahara to the jazz-dressed, smooth-shaven, bell-trousered "shiek" of the American dance hall seems a far cry to Mrs. Jordan.

Mrs. Jordan is the wife of the president of a leading motor car company. But, instead of spending her time over the social tea-cups, she'd rather fare forth with her friend, Mrs. Roger C. Perkins, to seek adventure in far places.

"The Sahara, I believe, is in many respects far inferior to our own Mojave Desert in California where I spent a season recently," says Mrs. Jordan. "The most colorful desert in the world is right here at home."

Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. Perkins wear the only occidentals in their party on the Sahara. They were accompanied by eight Arabs and lived in tents throughout their journey.

Mrs. Jordan has the highest respect for the Mohammedan religion and its followers but she believes the prophet's adherents in north Africa are better off under French rule than they would be under self-rule.

"I believe it is wrong for us to attempt to Christianize Mohammedans. I loved to hear our camel driver recite passages from the Koran.

"The desert country is one of subtle charm, romance and poetry. I cannot but be thrilled by Islamic culture but I shouldn't like to see it sumper-imposed on our own civilization—a thing which some extreme Pan-Islamists seem to desire."

get a lower insurance rate. This would naturally tend to make business better, he points out.

Fire Chief Mack inspected the Martin block, Main and Spring-sts a short time ago and found it in good shape in the matter of exits, he said. State officials will probably make a further inspection at a later date as it comes under their jurisdiction, Mack announced.

IN LIMA PLAYHOUSES TODAY

(BY GERTRUDE GILLIAM)

"Love In the Dark" Is the Sigma's Week-End Offering

"LOVE IN THE DARK" starring charming Viola Dana is announced as the Sigma's week-end attraction remaining for two days only. It is one of the most dramatic and exciting photographs in which she has ever appeared. In fact, it is a combination of the various elements which have made this diminutive star one of the most vivacious and adorable screen actresses today.

Miss Dana appears as an orphan adopted by a woman who is one of a band of thieves. She compels her husband who is blind during the day and whose sight returns at night, to join her in her robberies. When the police track them down, "Tim" manages to escape. Mary—the orphan—obtains a position with a kindly minister, whose son is be-

"East Is West" is a comedy but contains a story of romance, and is a picture with pathos and heart interest which will grip the audience from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

SCOUTS SENT TO POLITICAL MEET

Old Parties Have Observers at Progressive Conference

WILL REPORT TO CHIEFS

Personnel of Convention Main Information Sought

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)

WASHINGTON.—(United Press.)—Both Republican and Democratic parties have "observers" keeping a close eye on the LaFollette progressive railroad conference which opened in Chicago today.

Forwarded to the conference, it is to be the genesis of a third party movement, the two old parties sent competent scouts to report on the movement.

LaFollette's railroad program has never been a secret. The present conference, insofar as it relates to railroad valuations, will develop nothing which LaFollette has not already repeatedly advocated and discussed.

But politically, it may prove the beginning of a vendetta thru which Hearst will wreak his revenge upon the Democratic party and LaFollette will get his at the expense of the Republicans.

The moment such a coalition is formed, the LaFollette movement will lose the support of a host of Progressives, who in joining the "bloc" gave notice that the moment it entered partisan politics, or threatened to become a third party, they would quit. It is significant that some of these are absent from the Chicago meeting.

Many progressives already have resented LaFollette's assumption of leadership. They charge that for personal ambition he has split the progressive movement instead of uniting it. To many progressives, LaFollette's leadership is as dis-in an insurgent movement directed at both the Republican and Democratic organizations confirmed political observers here in the belief they have held all along—that LaFollette's conference is primarily a third party preliminary.

PROBE OF CAMP SHERMAN EXPECTED TO BE ASKED

COSHOCTON, Ohio.—Resolutions asking an investigation of housing conditions at Camp Sherman probably will be introduced at the third annual convention here today of the Ohio organization of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. A survey of alleged actions of trades unions in refusing membership to disabled veterans also may be asked. The convention will close with a business session tomorrow when officers will be elected.

BODY WASHES ASHORE

PORT CLINTON, Ohio.—The body of a man, the left cheek badly cut, was washed ashore from Lake Erie at Aschers Beach this morning. Local officials suspect foul play. So far, efforts at identification have been useless. The man apparently was about 55 years of age. He was slightly bald, had a beard and only one ear.

HANSEN INJURED

Capt. Amundsen's Associate Victim of Bomb Explosion

COPENHAGEN.—(Associated Press.)—Captain Gottfried Hansen, the Arctic explorer associated with Captain Amundsen in his Polar explorations, was among those wounded by an explosion of a bomb on board the Danish light cruiser Gejser during naval maneuvers south of the Island of Zealand today. Captain Hansen is not expected to recover.

The explosion occurred a few minutes after Crown Prince Frederick of Denmark left the Gejser to take command of his own destroyer.

LINEUPS OUT FOR INDUSTRIAL CONTESTS

First Game Should Be Good

Lima's Industrial league will open its schedule at Murphy's park on Saturday of this week, with the Lima Locomotive Works nine facing the strong L. E. & W. outfit in the first struggle of the afternoon. The second contest scheduled is between the Ohio Power and Crane Co.

The two latter teams are of unknown strength but the first game on the afternoon program, called for 2 o'clock, should be a first class affair in every respect as these two nines are ancient rivals and will have plenty of pep behind their play.

Manager Shockey's team from the Lake Erie lost last week to Lafayette but according to his statements the team showed good form and will be "up and at 'em" this year in the factory loop.

INDIANS BEAT BROWNS IN ST. LOUIS FOR CHANGE

CLEVELAND—When Cleveland defeated St. Louis 6 to 1 Thursday, it was the first time that the Indians have won a game from the Browns on the latter's field since September, 1921. The game was decided when Joe Sewell knocked a home run off Urban Shocker with two men on base in the sixth inning.

5 Central Men To Meet

Five Central high school athletes left at noon Friday to go to Columbus, via Lima, to take part in the state high school track and field meet, under the auspices of Ohio State university Saturday.

Approximately 70 high schools will be represented on Saturday in Columbus when Class A and B schools send their winners in last Saturday's district meets in various parts of the state.

TENNIS MEET

The Ohio state tennis tournament for high school players will also be held in Columbus Saturday. Seelye will run the high hurdles for Central. Paul the half mile. Poling the 440-yard dash and King and McDonald will try for the high jump. King probably stands the best chance of winning a place.

Records made at Ada's district meet last week were far from good and other schools in the state at other district meets, did much better so the locals don't stand much chance of coming out ahead.

Head Coach Roscoe Heibert accompanied the athletes on their trip.

The program follows:

Saturday Morning
9:30 o'clock, pole vault, shot put, 100-yard dash preliminaries; 9:45, 120 high hurdles preliminaries; 10, high jump; 10:15, discus throw; 10:30, 220-yard dash preliminaries; 11, javelin throw, broad jump, 220 low hurdles preliminaries.

Saturday Afternoon
2 o'clock, 100-yard dash; 2:15, one mile run; 2:25, 440-yard dash; 2:50, 120 yard high hurdles; 3:10, 220 yard dash; 3:25, half mile run; 3:45, 220 yard low hurdles; 4:15, mile relay.

900 MEN ENTERED IN COLLEGE ATHLETIC MEET

PHILADELPHIA—The pick of American college athletes were held Friday to match speed and strength on the under path and in the field at the 47th annual intercollegiate championships on Franklin Field. With many of last year's champions on hand to defend their titles and the largest entry list in the history of the meet, the calibre of competition was expected to be unusually high. Nearly 900 men, representing 23 institutions, are entered. Qualifying events only are on today's program.

Cleveland Defeats Browns

For the first time in nearly a decade the interest of the baseball world was concentrated Friday on Shibe Park, Philadelphia. All season Connie Mack's Athletics have been demanding attention and Thursday they got it personally from 20,000 Philadelphiaans who filled the park to see them defeat the New York Yankees, 1 to 0.

The Athletics' victory was also beneficial to Cleveland which opened a series in St. Louis with an easy victory, 6 to 1, and gained on Detroit, which bowed before Chicago, 6 to 1. The defeat jarred the Tigers from a third place tie with Cleveland.

By defeating Boston, 7 to 1, Washington got into first position for edging into the first division should the Tigers flop again.

While the Yankees were ending their winning streak of nine games the New York Giants were extending their commanding hold on first place in the National by beating Philadelphia, 8 to 2. Catcher Frank Snyder got his first home run of the year in addition to a triple, and accounted for five runs.

Pittsburgh met St. Louis in the first game of the series that will decide the present occupancy of second place and won easily, 11 to 4. The other National League clubs did not play.

TONY GIBBONS CERTAIN OF WAR OVER JACK

DAVIES, Mont.—If there's anyone worrying about the outcome of the fight for the world's heavyweight title at Shelby, July 4, it's certainly not Tom Gibbons.

"The wife is going to take care of the cooking and see that I get the right kind of food. She knows what I need. And as a cook—oh boy! Besides, I like to have it quiet and peaceful when I train for a fight. With the wife and kids there, it will be easier to get away from the bunch that always hangs around a fighter's camp before a big match."

"Not that I don't like to have the fellows around. But very often the attentions of one's friends and well-wishers are apt to be detrimental to the training routine."

Gibbons appears to be in the best of shape. If confidence is going to help, he is certainly not lacking in that.

WORKING FOR SPEED
"I know I am going against the toughest fighter in the ring today," he says. "But I feel that I have a good chance."

"Dempsey can be hurt as well as any man if he is hit. I think a string of knockouts shows I can be hard enough to hurt a man. (Gibbons has won 30 out of his last 32 fights by knockouts.)

"Carpentier proved Dempsey can be hit. I believe I can hit him."
"I shall devote most of my training to developing speed, for I feel the old hayo punch is still there."

HOLLYWOOD ATHLETES PUT K. O. ON MOVIE

CHICAGO—Eight Hollywood Calif. high school boys here to represent their school in the national interscholastic track and field meet under the auspices of the University of Chicago, have set a record. They haven't seen a moving picture since entering high school athletics. Shows were put on the taboo by athletic authorities and the boys themselves felt that the movie wouldn't help their studies and athletic work any.

R. E. Ashley, assistant manager of the Board of Commerce, was elected state director of the Lion's club at the annual convention Thursday at Arklow.

The convention decided for the coming year to take up welfare work among the blind. Following the lead of the Cincinnati organization, which has used the Braille system of raised letters for two years, each local club will cause to be sent to blind children of its district, the Braille magazine.

Children who will benefit by schooling will be sent to schools for the blind and any other assistance available will be given.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Gerald Fess, of E. Elm st., tells of the experience of neighbors who sent their little boy to visit friends while they went to the movies.

They returned earlier than they had expected and decided to all down on the front porch and wait for their son.

"Eleven p. m. arrived and the boy didn't show up," reports Hoch. "Midnight and still no sign of him. They became worried. They decided to telephone and find out why the boy hadn't started home."

On entering the house, the found he had gotten home earlier than they and had already gone to bed.

"While they were waiting on the front porch, he was sleeping soundly."

George Triempeit, S. Metcalf st., recounts an adventure in which a neighbor played a star role.

"He was bringing home a live chicken," she says. "It got away from him in the back yard and flew over the fence."

"There's a small hole in the fence just big enough to stick your hand thru."

"He saw something moving at the other side of the hole and made a grab for it.

"A resounding shriek was the result of the grab."

"The woman who lives in the next house was sitting out in the back yard against the fence diving her hair."

"When he grabbed, he grabbed her by the hair."

Mrs. Eugene Lippincott relates the case of a neighbor who absently minded left her key at home while going to the grocery.

The door was a spring lock and the neighbor found herself locked out. So she had to telephone her husband to come home and let her in.

"That wasn't so bad," says Mrs. Lippincott. "But she had started a steak broiling on the stove."

And by the time the husband arrived home it was burnt to a cinder."

Reed W. Wenzel, a boy, stopped at a gas station to put air in one of the tires of his car.

As he was filling the tire he thought he detected the sound of a leaky valve so he bent down and put his ear close to listen.

At that moment the car flew out knocking Wenzel and a girl he knew into the air.

The girl was heard the report of a gun and she was hit in the head.

"Good heavens," he yelled to the police quick this man has committed suicide."

B. A. Schoel, tells of a friend a traveling salesman who carried a gun in his suitcase.

At one he stepped into a barber shop for a haircut.

The barber was out but the boy was watching the shop.

He was out in the hair clipping machine when the boy told him: "You can wait for him but I'll be a pretty tired waiting."

IT STARTED SOMETHING

"I have not and anything to you but have been saying to others and I have induced many to take your medicine and be convinced. My dear friend, Remedy is correctly named. It moved stuff from me I never thought could be in a human being and I feel like a different person. The pain in my right side disappeared at once which four doctors said would require an operation, also the bleeding and indigestion. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the stomachal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded."
